

WAGGONER'S DEAL TO COST NEW YORK BANKS $390,000

Federal Inspectors Say That Amount Is Beyond Recovery in Telluride Swindle.

MONEY PAID OUT TO INDIVIDUALS
Wife and Son of Banker Before Grand Jury—Barber Called to Tell of Conversation.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Federal bank inspectors today indicated that New York banks will recover only a small part of the $390,000 which Waggoner lost through recent fraudulent manipulations by Charles D. Waggoner, small town banker from Colorado.

All but $119,000 of the $390,000 which Waggoner obtained through fake coded telegrams and cashiers' checks is past recovery, inspectors said, as title to the money had passed to private individuals.

This theory, they said, is based upon information given them by Amelia and Margaret Jones, nieces of Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., who is under indictment for mail fraud in connection with his financial coup.

What the information was, the inspectors did not disclose, but they said it led the half dozen defrauded New York bankers to feel that most of the half million is gone.

The bankers had held to the hope that Waggoner had not realized any cash upon the certified checks he obtained from the six financial houses here.

The Misses Jones, who are sisters and school teachers from Rocky Mountain City, Colo., were followed into the grand jury room today by four additional witnesses from Colorado who were subpoenaed in the inquiry into Waggoner's activities.

Mrs. Mary Belle Waggoner, wife of the indicted bank president; Charles Delos Jr., his son; Francis Carlson, 18-year-old clerk in the Telluride Bank; and Harry D. Miller, Waggoner's barber, were the four.

Amelia Jones already had told the grand jury that she and Miss Carlson had unwittingly sent the fake telegrams which aided Waggoner in carrying out his scheme.

Miller, federal investigators say, accompanied Waggoner from Telluride to Denver when the banker started on the trip to New York, and they are anxious to learn what they talked about.

The wife and son of Waggoner, Frances Carlson, 18-year-old clerk in the bank, and Harry D. Miller, the banker's barber, were taken today before the federal grand jury.

Mrs. Mary Belle Waggoner and her son, Charles Jr., and the other witnesses were questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Emanuel G. Kield.

They entered the grand jury room after Amelia Jones, youthful niece of the banker, had told federal investigators that she and Miss Carlson unwittingly had sent the six coded telegrams which enabled the banker to obtain the credit.

Miss Margaret Jones, sister of Amelia, appeared before the grand jury with her sister yesterday. United States Attorney Charles H. Tuley said he thought the sisters and Miss Carlson innocent of any wrong doing.

Director of Waggoner's Bank Will Tell of $30,000 Deal.

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., Sept. 19.—J. C. Anderson, secretary of the New York Cattle Loan Co., has been subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury in New York to testify regarding his connection with the affairs of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., whose president, C. D. Waggoner, is alleged to have fraudulently obtained $500,000 from six New York banks. Waggoner also is president of the loan company.

Anderson, who planned to leave for New York today, is a director of the Telluride Bank and a friend of Waggoner. He will be questioned, federal officials said, regarding $50,000 in cash and $25,000 in securities which he obtained in possession as a result of a loan paid at the Continental Bank of Salt Lake City by Waggoner.

When the financial puzzle was being unraveled here after the closing of the Telluride Bank, Anderson told state bank officials he had been informed by Waggoner the $50,000 had been deposited to his credit in the Salt Lake City Bank.

The funds came from the First National Bank of Pueblo, Colo., where Waggoner had sent a draft for $225,000 to be deposited to the credit of the Bank of Telluride.

Anderson said he had no previous account at the Salt Lake City bank, but acting on instructions from the banker, ordered that bank to pay a $25,000 loan of Waggoner's which it held. He requested that the securities, collateral to the loan, be sent to him ere long with the $50,000 cash. Anderson, now holding the securities and cash, pending the outcome of the case, the $50,000 cash, he said, is for payment of a note of Waggoner's which he holds.

Erich Leimkuhl and Georg Froebel Come Early to Study Weather Conditions.

Erich Leimkuhl and Georg Froebel, who will pilot one of the two German entries in the international Gordon Bennett balloon race Sept. 28, arrived yesterday.

Leimkuhl, a 52-year-old chemist, and Froebel, 32, a Government finance official, came early to study prevailing air currents and meteorological conditions. They expect their fellow German, Hugo Kauken, to arrive by Sunday.

Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, veteran balloonist and aviation enthusiast, has been appointed official starter. He is considering the possibility of admitting to the entry list Eduardo Bradley, Minister of Civil Aviation of Argentina, who was the first to cross the Andes Mountains in a balloon. His balloon is now on board the steamship American Legion on the way to New York from Buenos Aires, and he could not bring it to St. Louis until the day before the contest.

He is now in Washington. Although rules provide that entries must be on the ground several days before the start, Maj. Lambert hopes to be able to permit him to compete.

WOMAN SOUGHT IN PLOT TO GET WHISKY IN BOND

Clerk for San Francisco Dealer Said to Have Tried to Kill Herself After Discovery of Conspiracy.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 19.—Fraudulent withdrawals of large quantities of bonded liquor from Government warehouses have resulted in the arrest of two men and a search for another man and a woman alleged to have planned the conspiracy.

Warrants charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws were issued against the four accused persons. They are Mrs. Agnes A. Cress, confidential clerk for a large wholesale liquor company, Daniel J. Cottrell, former cashier of the United States Customs Service here, Charles Schultz, customs broker, and R. N. MacWilliams, proprietor of a pharmacy.

Cottrell and MacWilliams were arrested by agents of the Department of Justice. Schultz could not be located. Mrs. Cress, officers said, has disappeared. She was said to be in a sanatorium recuperating from an alleged attempt at suicide made after the liquor plot was discovered.

Fielded declared investigation had disclosed that the scheme to divert the liquor with forged permits had been evolved by Mrs. Cress. The scheme, Hatfield said, was based on the fact that the prohibition laws permit masters of vessels to obtain liquor for their ships' medical stores. Such liquor is obtained through an application, of which five copies are signed by various officials.

The accused persons are alleged to have made a sixth copy by carbon, and with the extra copy, properly signed by the officials, to have obtained large quantities of liquor for diversion into bootleg channels.

Mrs. Cress, for 12 years a trusted employee of a liquor company, was said by Hatfield to have originated the liquor diversion scheme in the belief that the records would be destroyed when her company went out of business in the near future.

Bond of $10,000 was set for the two persons arrested.

3000 Quarts of Liquor Seized in Cottage on Maine Coast.
BRUNSWICK, Me., Sept. 19.—More than 3000 quarts of choice liquor valued at $10,000, which officials said were imported for distribution in New York, Niagara Falls and Pittsburgh, reposed today behind steel doors in the Brunswick hill while authorities sought to uncover further ramifications of a liquor ring thought to have operated from this section all summer.

George B. Alberts, alias Brittain and Barnes, of Calais, was arrested after officers said he admitted he was caretaker of a cottage at Gun Point, near the Harpswell shore, 10 miles from here, where the liquor was found last night. Deputy Sheriff William B. Edwards of Brunswick led the raiding officers.

ASKS WICKERSHAM TO ADVISE REFERENDUM ON PROHIBITION American Woman's Council of Justice Writes to Head of National Crime Commission.

The American Woman's Council of Justice, a "non-partisan, non-sectarian organization of women," with offices in the Chemical Building, has written to George W. Wickersham, chairman of the National Commission on Law Enforcement, asking him to recommend to President Hoover that "Congress be urged to ascertain whether the people want national prohibition."

"The people were not consulted," the letter reads, "except in Ohio, where they voted it down, and whether the eighteenth amendment should be put into the Constitution. Now, after nine years of futile efforts to enforce it, it is a matter of right that the people be given a chance to express their wishes in the matter, free from all distracting issues or candidates. In as direct a method as the Constitution permits."

"It would seem to be the part of wisdom for you to recommend to the President, that before attempting further enforcement, Congress be urged to ascertain whether the people want prohibition. This may and should be done by submitting immediately a repeal of the eighteenth amendment to conventions in the several states. The consent of the governed is more important than the imposition of penalties, and prohibition can never be enforced as long as good citizens refuse to regard the moderate consumption of alcohol as a crime."

The letter was signed by Miss Emilie M. Woeney, president, and Mrs. Hettie Lorimer, secretary.

Program to Be Presented at Municipal Theater in Forest Park Oct. 6.

The United States Marine Band, which has played at the inauguration of every President since 1801, will give two open-air concerts at the Municipal Theater, in Forest Park, Sunday, Oct. 6, under the auspices of the Municipal Theater Association.

It is the band's first appearance here since the World's Fair in 1904, and this is the first event the theater association has undertaken aside from its summer opera season.

The performances will be given at 2:30 and 8 p. m., with all except the usual quota of free seats being reserved. Prices are 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. The association is accepting orders at the Arcade Building. The band of 50 men, led by Capt. Taylor Branson, will play martial airs, classics, modern music and old popular numbers.

Executives of the theater association said they guaranteed the charge of the band, which is on tour, $1750 for traveling expenses. Any profit, though little is expected, will go to the association, which incurred a deficit of $12,500 to $15,000 in the 1929 opera season. If all seats are sold at both concerts the income will be about $10,000, and tickets, advertising, ushers and other expenses must be paid for.

By the Associated Press.

The Shawnee arrived here with shell holes in her port quarter and part of her rail gone.

After the firing, McLeod said, the cutter hailed him, asking the identity of the ship.

The cutter then signaled for the Coast Guard ship Gresham to relieve the 145, McLeod said. The Gresham remained with the Shawnee until about noon Saturday, when another Coast Guard vessel relieved her. The Shawnee increased her speed from 10 to 12 knots and outdistanced the American patrol craft.

German Anthem Sung on River Boat Annoys British and French.

MAINZ, Germany, Sept. 19.—Although evacuation of the Rhine-land has begun, regulations and ordinances of the Inter-Allied Rhine-land High Commission remain in force until the last of the occupying forces has been withdrawn, consequently, the German national anthem, "Deutschland Ueber Alles," cannot be sung except by special permit.

The other night as the river steamer Hindenburg, sailing up the Rhine toward this town, passed through British-occupied territory Germans along the shore were delighted to hear passengers on the boat singing the anthem to the accompaniment of the ship's band.

The French military authorities were notified. When the Hindenburg docked for the night in French territory, the French hauled the sleepy captain from his bunk at 1 a. m. and asked him what he was doing. He had allowed the band-master to play "Deutschland Ueber Alles."

The captain explained that a local trade union of bakers, having their first outing since the evacuation began, allowed themselves to be carried away by their enthusiasm. It isn't likely that anybody will be prosecuted for what a few weeks ago would have been considered a heinous offense.

Vehicles Used in Sewer Work Collide Near Jefferson Memorial.

Two trucks engaged in the sewer work in Forest Park collided yesterday afternoon on Grand drive, west of the Jefferson Memorial, killing one of the drivers. Goilers on the 5-10 municipal course which borders the drive witnessed the accident.

Alva B. Grant, 30 years old, an employee of the W. E. Callahan Construction Co., was the driver killed. The other driver, Alvin Pretto, 6049 Arthur avenue, was injured when a McCormick jury returned a verdict of accident.

Grant was driving a light truck west on the drive and Pretto was driving a loaded truck east when they collided near a bridge. The drive was partly torn up at that point, Pretto said he pulled to one side to avoid the collision, but Grant's truck struck a rut and swerved, striking the big truck and throwing Grant out. His head was crushed when a rear wheel of Pretto's truck.

There had been 112 motor vehicle fatalities in St. Louis this year compared with 110 for a similar period last year.

Grant was a former policeman having joined the force in 1925, giving his address at 4212 Grand avenue. He resigned a year later under charges. His body was identified at the Morgue by his niece, Elaine Rich, 1201 South Sixth street.

Defense Witnesses Testify Japanese Succumbed to Anesthetic Administered During Operation.

JUDGE PERMITS SUCH EVIDENCE
Woman, on Stand for State, Says Friend Told Her Defendant was "Just Plain Drunk."

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 19.—Trial of Mrs. Lois Pantages on a second degree murder charge growing out of the death of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese, after an automobile accident, approached its climax today as the State prepared to make an attempt to refute defense testimony that the man's death was due to other causes.

Counsel for Mrs. Pantages brought the defense to a sudden close yesterday with testimony of five physicians that Rokumoto died of asphyxiation after an anesthetic had been administered during an operation. Several hours of argument preceded admission of the testimony. The defense previously had produced witnesses who swore that the wife of Alexander Pantages, theatre magnate, was not intoxicated when her automobile struck Rokumoto's car at an intersection last June, as the State had contended, and that the operation performed upon the Japanese after the accident was not an emergency one.

Long Hypothetical Question.
Dr. Alfred E. Gallant, senior orthopedic surgeon at Los Angeles general hospital, gave emphatic answer to a 1500 word hypothetical question propounded by Max Steur, chief defense counsel.

"In your opinion did the injuries received by Rokumoto in the collision contribute in any way to his death," Dr. Gallant was asked.

"Absolutely not," Dr. Francis L. Anton, Dr. F. W. Rinkensberger, Dr. W. Steigman and Dr. Bertha Baumgartner, answered the two questions in virtually the same language.

Ruling on Evidence.
In his ruling the Judge held that the defendant had the right to offer testimony to show that the Japanese died of the effects of an anesthetic administered after his injury by the defendant's wrongful acts. The Court also stated that if Rokumoto's death was caused or contributed to by unlawful acts of the defendant

Dr. Alfred E. Gallant, senior orthopedic surgeon at Los Angeles general hospital, gave emphatic answer to a long hypothetical question propounded by Max Steur chief defense counsel.

"In your opinion," asked Steur, after the hypothetical question had been read, "what was the cause of death?"

"Death," Dr. Gallant answered, "was caused by anesthetic."

"In your opinion did the injuries received by Rokumoto in the collision contribute in any way to his death?" Dr. Gallant was asked.

"Absolutely not."

Dr. Francis L. Anton, Dr. F. W. Blumberg, Dr. F. W. Stegmeyer and Dr. Bertha Baumbach answered the two questions in virtually the same language.

Bulging on Evidence.
In his ruling the Judge held that the defendant had the right to offer testimony to show that the Japanese died of independent causes not arising from his injury by the defendant's wrongful acts. The court also stated that if Rokumoto's death was caused or contributed to by unlawful acts of the defendant the giving or withholding of an anesthetic would not affect the rer observability of the defendant.

The state indicated the line to be taken in its efforts to knock down the defense built up by Steur and his associates by questioning of its rebuttal witness, placed on the stand just before adjournment.

Mrs. Minnie L. Maxwell, who identified herself as a close friend of Mrs. Catherine Mulcahy, a defense witness who testified that Mrs. Pantages was not intoxicated, declared that Mrs. Mulcahy had told her she had seen scores of intoxicated persons, and that when she arrived at the scene of the accident and began caring for Mrs. Pantages, she saw the woman was "just plain drunk."

Grand Jury Condemns Pastor.
Alleged activities of the Rev. Robert P. Shuler in connection with the trial were denounced by the Los Angeles County grand jury in a formal statement issued after investigation of reports that the clergyman had told his radio audience that the jury was "hung already."

The remarks alleged to have been made by Shuler, the grand jury statement said, were "gossip and hearsay, unproved by any showing of evidence or reasonable indication of evidence."

"He uttered suspicious only," it said, "which by his own words were imparted to him by others. Recent persons, by innuendo and irresponsible gossip have been unjustly suspected and condemned."

Foreman Elwood de Garmo said copies of the jury report were being sent to Shuler and to the Federal Radio Commission at Washington.

The Rev. Mr. Shuler's alleged radio statements also were investigated by a special committee appointed by Superior Judge Carlos Pantages. Both the committee and jury announced they were investigating other statements alleged to have been made by Shuler over the radio.

fendant was "Just Plain Drunk."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 19.—Trial of Mrs. Lois Pantages on a second degree murder charge growing out of the death of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese, after an automobile accident, approached its climax today as the State prepared to make an attempt to refute defense testimony that the man's death was due to other causes.

Counsel for Mrs. Pantages brought the defense to a sudden close yesterday with testimony of five physicians that Rokumoto died of asphyxiation after an anesthetic had been administered during an operation. Several hours of argument preceded admission of the testimony. The defense previously had produced witnesses who swore that the wife of Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, was not intoxicated when her automobile struck Rokumoto's car at an intersection last June.

The defense contended, and that the operation performed upon the Japanese after the accident was not an emergency one.

Long Hypothetical Question.
Dr. Alfred E. Gallant, senior orthopedic surgeon at Los Angeles general hospital, gave emphatic answer to a long hypothetical question propounded by Max Steur chief defense counsel.

"Death," Dr. Gallant answered, "was caused by anesthetic."

"In your opinion did the injuries received by Rokumoto in the collision contribute in any way to his death?" Dr. Gallant was asked.

"Absolutely not."

Dr. Francis L. Anton, Dr. F. W. Blumberg, Dr. F. W. Stegmeyer and Dr. Bertha Baumbach answered the two questions in virtually the same language.

Bulging on Evidence.
In his ruling the Judge held that the defendant had the right to offer testimony to show that the Japanese died of independent causes not arising from his injury by the defendant's wrongful acts. The court also stated that if Rokumoto's death was caused or contributed to by unlawful acts of the defendant the giving or withholding of an anesthetic would not affect the rer observability of the defendant.

CAR MEN'S UNION TO DISCUSS STRIKE VOTE SATURDAY

Executive Committee of Employees Organization to Take Up Dispute Over Pay of 35 Men.

Section 40—All members of the Union, working in the general shops, not heretofore mentioned, shall work forty-eight hours per week, and receive an increase in hourly rate of pay of four cents with time and one-half for all overtime.

The foregoing is the section from the arbitration wage award of the State Public Service Commission upon which is based the present controversy between the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees and the St. Louis Public Service Co., the union claiming that under this section the company should have granted a 4 cents an hour increase in wages to 35 of its members employed as helpers and laborers in the general shops, and the company contending the award was not intended to apply to these men. Having failed, after several weeks' conferences, to get the company to accede to its interpretation of the section, the executive board of the union will determine at its regular meeting next Saturday night whether it will circulate a strike petition among the company's 4600 union employees, including 3000 conductors and motormen.

Statement by Greenland.
Although union officers say the company has refused to grant the increase to the men in question because to do so would mean other men doing similar work but not members of the Car Men's Union would demand corresponding increases, Samuel W. Greenland, general manager of the company, said today that point has no bearing on the controversy. He said there were members of other unions employed in the shops and that their wages were fixed by agreement with their respective groups. So far as he knows, he said, there are no non-union men employed in the shops.

The company's position, he said, is based on the contention that the section in question was not intended to apply to the particular group of workmen.

The Commission's award applied only to members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, since the matter was brought before the Commission on complaint of that union, but a section of the award provides "no discrimination in favor of or against employees who are not members of the association (union) or in favor of or against employees who are members of the association shall be permitted either by the company or by the association."

Arbitration Clause.
The wage award also provides, "There shall be no strikes or lock-outs on the property of the company by or against the members of the association during the term of this finding or any extension thereof," and that any disputes which cannot be amicably adjusted shall be submitted to arbitration either by a special board of arbitration or the Public Service Commission.

The street car company has offered to refer section 40 back to the Commission for interpretation, but Murray J. Douglas, president of the union, says: "The clause is so simple a child can understand it. There is no reason for an interpretation."

"The men are becoming discouraged because of the dilatory tactics of the company and the board may decide to circulate a strike petition," Douglas said. "I was hopeful that the company would settle the matter, but we have been informed that the increase in back pay will not be given to the 35 members of the union involved in the dispute until the Public Service Commission interprets Section 40 of the award. In our opinion, the section is so plain that no further interpretation is necessary. However, the executive board may decide to take the matter back to the commission rather than call a strike. I don't know."

The Commission's award stated the finding should apply to all members of the association (union) now or hereafter employed by the company during the terms of the award.

ONE FINGERPRINT
CHIEF CLEW IN

print with McGauley's prints, taken four years before, and announced the identification.

Copies of the bottle print and the print of McGauley's middle right-hand finger were sent to the Department of Justice and Joyce's finding corroborated. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Bureau of Identification of the department, told a Post-Dispatch correspondent that he had never heard of an instance where two persons had identical markings on a single finger.

"If the Bureau has a latent finger print, such as found on a whiskey bottle, and a positive print, such as taken in police cases, and they are identical," Hoover said, "there is absolutely no doubt that the prints were made by the same person."

Scotland Yard in London and the Paris Police Bureau agreed that a single fingerprint was sufficient for positive identification.

Eleven Points of Similarity.

Leut. Joyce's analysis of the bottle print noted 11 points of similarity in ridge characteristics with that of McGauley's print, whereas he said yesterday that six or seven points of similarity are universally accepted by experts as positive identification. Innumerable points may be worked out in a comparison, but rarely is more than one point found similar in the prints of two persons, never as many as six or seven.

The process used by Leut. Joyce for the past year is one invented by himself, permitting the copying of prints from rounded and beveled surfaces. Joyce has discarded the camera in copying prints, holding that photographic reproduction reduces a curved surface to a plane and thus distorts the characteristics of the print. Joyce sprays the print with aluminum dust and applies to the print a strip of black tape coated with a paste of rubber and cement. A copy of the print, in aluminum, is thus recorded on the tape and the impression is covered with a piece of transparent mica, producing a permanent record.

Why Fingerprints Last.

The human finger, Joyce explained, constantly exudes oil. A finger tip touching any object leaves an oil reproduction of the ridges of the finger tip which is sometimes invisible except when seen through a microscope. The oil has peculiar lasting qualities, causing a print to remain on an object indefinitely if not disturbed, and aluminum dust has the quality of adhering to this oil while not adhering to other matter, Joyce declared.

In the case of the abandoned bottle, Joyce was doubtful today whether another print could be copied inasmuch as the aluminum dust and the pressure applied in taking the first print would tend to break up the oil deposit on the glass and perhaps make a second print illegible. However, the bottle with the vestiges of the print, is being carefully preserved, he said.

McGauley Willing to Be Tried.

Prosecutor Castlen has declined to state at this time what use, if any, he intended to make of the bottle and the finger print. McGauley, in Detroit where he had been sent by St. Louis police following his arrest at St. James, Mo., denied that he had any part in the Overland robbery, expressed willingness to return to Clayton and face witnesses in the case, and declared he could prove that he was on a farm near St. James at the time of the robbery.

McGauley admitted frankly that he was engaged in bootlegging at St. James, selling whiskey to St. Louis gangsters, including Earl Reed, sought for the murder of Patrolman William McCormack in a cigar store holdup in June, and Winifred Seaman, accused in Ahrens' confession as the driver of the automobile used in the Overland Bank robbery and charged by police with assisting Reed in his escape. Confirmation of his association with gangsters was shown by the fact that St. Louis detectives arrested him later in June after visiting his St. James home in search for Reed.

Speculation on Defense.

If McGauley is brought to Clayton for trial, still insisting he is innocent, the weight of the fingerprint identification will rest with a jury. Courts and juries, it is known, frequently demonstrate much less faith in the infallibility of this form of identification than is felt by the fingerprint experts.

In addition to an alibi, McGauley might offer in his defense the argument that he was a bootlegger catering to gangsters and that his fingerprint might be on any bottle he sold. He could argue that the abandoned bottle might have been last in the hands of one of his customers or in the hands of someone who received it from a customer. He could point out that the automobile was a service car normally used in transporting passengers in St. Louis and argue that any passenger might have dropped on the floor a bottle, with his fingerprint on it.

Positive Identification Lacking.

Even though the State convinced a jury that the fingerprint on the bottle was that of McGauley's middle right-hand finger, this would not be conclusive proof that McGauley was the slayer of the cashier, and the State lacks definite positive identification of McGauley by eye-witnesses. The nearest thing to identification is the statement of the three eye-witnesses, who viewed McGauley in Michigan last week, that he "looks more like the slayer than Baldwin."

Baldwin, McGraw Give Bond.

Bookkeeper Hoech's declaration of "a terrible mistake" resulted yesterday in the release on bond of Baldwin and William McGraw, who had been held in Clayton jail since January as the result of Hoech's identification. Before Circuit Judge Nolte, Prosecuting Attorney Castlen concurred in the plea for bond. Baldwin was released on $10,000 bond signed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Baldwin, 4115 Kingshighway Southwest, and Miss Mary Hayes, 6312 Audrey avenue, Westport; McGraw on $5000 bond signed by William L. Stecker, 2840 Marlette avenue, Normandy, an uncle of McGraw's wife and a brother of Justice of the Peace Stecker.

Two Still Are Held. Remaining in Clayton jail are two prisoners in the case, William O'Hara, who was employed by the owner of the service car used in the robbery and who was identified as the driver by a man who witnessed the flight from the bank, and Lawrence Ahrens, whose confession, since repudiated, absolved Baldwin and McGraw and named McGauley as the slayer, implicating himself, Winfield Seaman, Lawrence McBride and O'Hara.

A preliminary hearing yesterday, Ahrens was held for the grand jury under a murder warrant issued last week on the application of Prosecutor Castlen. His confession was read, but no defense was made and there was no discussion of his charge that the statement was obtained by duress. Chief Kar has denied that Ahrens was misquoted before or during the taking of the confession.

The best paint bargain in the world

Fewer gallons needed. Costs no more than cheaper paint, on the house. Cuts repainting cost.

Paint Now for ECONOMY

Specify SWP and engage a good painter

If your house is even slightly weather-beaten, paint now with fine old SWP and save money.

Because of its wonderful "body" SWP House Paint thoroughly covers more square feet of wall per gallon. Therefore fewer gallons are needed. Even at a slightly higher price per gallon, it costs you no more than cheaper paint by the job.

The beautiful, weather-proof SWP colors and the tough film last so much longer that repainting is needed only once in about five years, on the average. Cheaper paint has to be replaced completely every year or so. That is why SWP saves 50 to 75% on repainting. It is the world's greatest house paint bargain.

FIRES IN CALIFORNIA PUT OUT BY RAIN

Showers End Ventura County Blaze and Three Others—Also Halts Train Service.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 19.—
Rain which extinguished four major brush and range fires, including the $3,500,000 Ventura County conflagration, had washed out railroad tracks and stalled passenger trains today.

The efforts of fire fighters to stop the blaze which blackened 25-000 acres of Ventura County watershed, destroyed 125 oil derricks, five schoolhouses and scores of homes were successful when the storm left heavy moisture over the countrywide. A large section of the Ventura tangle tract, bounded by the cities of Santa Paula, Ventura and Ojai, became a mass of wet ash and steaming embers. Of 2500 men at one time mustered to fight the flames, 200 remained on guard. Two hundred fifty persons, chiefly oil workers and their families, were homeless.

Three other fires, one in San Diego County and two in Riverside County, were put out by rain.

Four trains were marooned temporarily by washouts on the Southern Pacific Railway line between Niland and Mecca in Imperial Valley. Torrents of water rushed from the Chocolate Mountains, tearing up ties, rails and ballasted roadbed, and carrying away culverts.
One ditch across the right of way was 50 feet long and 12 feet deep.
Two of the stalled trains were Chicago bound from Los Angeles. The third was westbound to Los Angeles, and a local was on its way to El Centro and Calexico on the southern end of the valley.

At Jacumba in the San Diego Mountains, a San Diego & Arizona Railroad train was stalled Tuesday night in the beginning of the general storm which forced Russell Hall, Pickwick Latin-American Airways pilot, to land, wrecking his plane and injuring himself fatally.
His passenger, Jose Lavin, Mexican customs official at Tijuana, Mexico, was not seriously hurt.

Stevenson, Wash., Saved by Back-fires and Shift in Wind.

By the Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 19.—
The town of Stevenson, Wash., was out of danger from a forest fire today and housewives unpacked clothing, furniture and other possessions which had been loaded on automobiles.

Fire Warden William Goebel, in announcing that the town was saved, said the conflagration was stopped by backfires and a shift in the wind.

Yacolt, Wash., 30 miles north of this city, also was thought to be out of danger. Estacada, Ore., 35 miles southeast of here, had returned to normal life after an exciting four days, during which a fire once advanced to within two miles of its outskirts.

Stevenson, although out of danger, conducted its business under the glow of electric lights. Banks of smoke hung over the town.

The most serious fires in the Columbia National Forest, in which Stevenson is situated, were reported burning in "Old Basin," six miles north of the town. Warden Goebel said there was no way of determining their extent, since smoke limited visibility to a few yards.

Fires in national forests of Oregon and Washington were said by officials of the district forest office here to be "much improved."

SECOND TACOMA-TOKIO PLANE CRACKS UP IN FIRST FLIGHT

Pilot Says Rudder Controls Gave Way on Craft Specially Built for Lieut. Bromley.

By the Associated Press.

BURBANK, Cal., Sept. 19.—The second low-wing monoplane which Lieut. Harold Bromley, Tacoma (Wash.) aviator, has had specially built for his proposed nonstop flight from Tacoma to Tokio, cracked up while on its first flight yesterday. It was being flown by Herbert Fahy, test pilot, who reported he was forced to make a rudderless landing after the specially designed rudder controls gave way. The pilot suffered cuts on the face.

The plane lost one wing when,
from an altitude of 200 feet, Fahy dropped the craft onto a concrete highway across which it bounced, stopping on the lawn in front of a private residence. The landing gear was smashed and the builders of the plane said that it was beyond repair. Fahy attributed the mishap to a counter-balanced tail group, which he said had been designed by Lieut. Bromley.

Bromley smashed his first craft, also a low-wing monoplane, as he attempted to take off at Tacoma early in the summer on his planned nonstop flight to Tokio. Gasoline, which he said splashed from the overloaded wing tanks into his eyes, was blamed for that mishap.

INVESTMENT BROKERS SUSPEND State Capital Corporation Traded in Bank Stocks.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The State Capital Corporation, investment brokers, suspended trading in high-class bank stocks today and closed its doors with liabilities to prominent brokers and at least one bank aggregating, it was said, more than $250,000.

Nathan L. Marks, an attorney representing the firm, denied reports that the brokerage firm founded last year, had crashed owing more than $1,000,000 and that the District Attorney's office was handling the matter. He explained that the company had closed because members of the firm had been playing the market short in bank stocks. Marks said the firm's assets would exceed $300,000 and that creditors probably would be reimbursed within a week or 10 days on a basis of about 90 cents on the dollar.

Education by Movies in Mexico.

MEXICO CITY.—The Department of Public Instruction has set aside $121,000 annually for education by means of motion pictures.
The films are to be acquired each month and distributed through the country by means of a circuit managed by the department. Portable projecting machines will be taken to the villages where no regular motion-picture apparatus exists.

By the Associated Press.
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 19.—The two Baton Rouge entries in the outboard motorboat race up the Mississippi River from New Orleans to St. Louis were leading the field neck-and-neck north of Vidalia, La., this morning, according to word received here.

The Vivian touched that point at 7:05 a. m. and left at 7:50, after refueling. The Hombrub stopped at Vidalia at 7:09 and left at 7:48.

During the night the Cheerie of New Orleans passed the two Baton Rouge craft north of here, after all three had refueled, but experienced motor trouble south of Vidalia and had not reached there when the others departed this morning.

The fourth entry, the Bernadette, had not reached Baton Rouge at 8:45 a. m. today. The four started from New Orleans yesterday afternoon at 5:07 o'clock.

A Coroner's verdict of suicide was returned today in the death of August Doneyer, 78 years old, 6629 Arsenal street, whose body was found yesterday beneath the Southwest avenue bridge over the River des Peres.

William Vaughters, 3101 Sutton avenue, Maplewood, testified he saw Doneyer walking on the bridge. His attention was attracted elsewhere, he said, and when he looked again in the direction of the bridge, Doneyer had disappeared.

Doneyer's body was found in the concrete flood basin, 50 feet below the bridge. It was identified last night by Mrs. Bertha Bewig, a niece, with whom he resided.

NOW within your reach... the greatest of all Radiolas! Brought to an amazingly new degree of efficiency and beauty... and priced to a level that takes it out of the luxury class.

The Super-Heterodyne circuit is acknowledged by radio experts as the last word in radio design. It is the exclusive development of RCA and its associated companies. Radiola 66 not only embodies the Super-Heterodyne circuit but also has a newly developed inbuilt electro-dynamic reproducer. Naturally it is equipped for all-electric operation from the wall socket and has a connection for an electric pickup to reproduce phonograph records.

Never before have you had such an opportunity to obtain this unique instrument at so low a price. Receiving sets of comparable quality formerly cost $500.00 to $1,000.00—but even these did not equal the new 66 in fidelity of tone or simplicity of operation. Yet, think of it! This great, new and improved Radiola Super-Heterodyne is now only $225 (less Radiotrons). Only the vast manufacturing resources of RCA could achieve so astoundingly low a price.

Radiola Super-Heterodyne 66 may be purchased from your RCA Radiola dealer on the easy RCA Time Payment Plan. Today... visit your Radiola dealer. See and hear this most famous of all radio instruments... and learn how really inexpensive it is to enjoy the finest in radio.

SOVIET PLANE READY FOR PACIFIC FLIGHT

Craft, on Way to New York, Reaches Kamchatka, Its Last Stop in Asia.

By the Associated Press.

PETROPOLVSK, Siberia, Sept. 19.—The Russian airplane Land of the Soviets, after a flight through storms with thunder, lightning and high winds, landed here yesterday after covering the 900-mile stretch across the treacherous sea of Okhotsk at an average speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

Commander Semyon Shestakov, pilot, with his companions, second pilot P. E. Bolotov, Navigator B. V. Sterlingov and Mechanic D. V. Pufasov, were acclaimed by local residents, many of whom had never seen an airplane.

The four Russian flyers, who hope to be the first in a heavier-than-air machine to cross the Pacific over an eastward route, had their first taste of over-water flying in coming from Nikolayevsk-On-Amur. The wheels which they had used on the long flight from Moscow were exchanged there for pontoons.

This principal town of Kamchatka Peninsula is their last Asiatic stop. From here they will head for Alaska by way of the Aleutian Islands. They expect to pick up first Atka Island, the extreme west of American territory. From there they will proceed to Dutch Harbor, Seward, and Sitka, Alaska, and thence to Seattle, Wash. Their ultimate goal is New York City.

The airplane carries a radio set, the naval radio station at St. Paul, Alaska, has been instructed to broadcast weather information for the flyers and to listen for their reports.

In crossing this stormy section of the North Pacific the aviators in event of difficulty will have to rely almost solely on the Soviet supply ship "Krasny Vimpel" (Red Pennant) which is cruising in the Aleutians. This ship has the radio call signal RAJA.

ASHLAND, KY., BUSIEST TOWN ON LONG STRETCH OF THE OHIO

Records for August Show That 1191 Barges Passed Through Lock There.

By the Associated Press.
ASHLAND, Ky.—Ashland had more river traffic during August than any other town on the Ohio River between Wheeling, W. Va., and Vanceburg, Ky., according to the report of Maj. Ardery, in charge of this district.

The maximum traffic during the month was at Lock No. 23, Ashland, where 55 packets, 147 towboats, 1191 barges, 66 small craft, eight United States boats, 13 United States barges and one raft passed through.

The minimum movements were at Lock No. 22, near Ravenswood, where but 355 craft of all kinds passed through.

$5625 ROAD BOND PREMIUM
$7,500,000 Issue of $75,000,000 in Securities Sold.
By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 19.—The first of the $75,000,000 State road bonds voted last November, an issue of $7,500,000, were sold for $7,505,625 yesterday by the State Board of Fund Commissioners to a syndicate composed of Estabrook & Co., New York, and the Boston National Co., St. Louis. The $5625 premium was considered good by State officials.

The bonds, which will be delivered Oct. 15, will bear 4 1/2 per cent interest a year from Oct. 1 this year. The first $1,000,000 will mature in 1948, $2,000,000 each in 1949, 1950 and 1951, and the remaining $500,000 in 1952.

VIEWS OF ST. LOUIS TARIFF BENEFICIARIES

Concerns, Whose Income Tax Returns Were Requested, Tell How They Stand.

St. Louis concerns whose income tax returns have been requested by the Senate Finance Committee Democrats for use in tariff debate have taken an active interest in the proposed tariff bill. Three have opposed tariff items advocated as farm relief measures, one has asked general revisions, some a higher tariff on some items and lower on others, another has asked revision higher on a few items, and still another has asked a 100 per cent increase on competing products manufactured in Japan.

The Corno Mills Co., with offices in East St. Louis, but located in the St. Louis industrial district, is opposing the proposed tariff on black strap molasses, a by-product of sugar manufacture, on the ground that it will increase the price of feed. J. R. Matthews, president of the company, said: "We don't want any change. Any increase made will not affect us in any way except that we will have to charge the farmer more for his feed. We use black strap to sweeten feeds and, while some of it comes from Louisiana, that State does not produce nearly enough to satisfy the demand. The remainder is imported from Cuba."

"Difference Paid by Consumer." Woodson K. Woods, vice president of the Ralston Purina Co., expressed similar views. "The existing rate is fair," he said, "but the new rate, which I do not recall exactly, is a large increase and would increase the cost of the finished product to the farmer materially. Our company probably would make just as much money, however, under the new schedule, as the difference would have to be paid by the consumer."

John A. Bush, president of the Brown Shoe Co., said his concern is opposing a tariff on hides, advocated by Eastern manufacturers, on the ground that it would increase leather prices to the farmer, who uses more leather than any other class. Last June, the Post-Dispatch printed an interview with Frank C. Rand, president of the International Shoe Co., in which Rand opposed the proposed tariff on shoes, hides and leather, asserting it would add $80,000,000 a year to the nation's shoe bill.

Chemical Manufacturers.
Dr. P. W. Ruse, secretary of the Mallinckrodt Chemical Co., said that chemical manufacturers are interested in several features on the proposed tariff bill, especially favoring higher schedules on the importation of articles which cannot be manufactured with profit in the United States, in competition with German and other chemists. He said the company had petitioned for certain increases, but that since they were not granted, he did not care to say what they were.

W. R. Bemister, treasurer of the Monsanto Chemical Co., explained that his concern was interested in obtaining a new system of tariff valuations. "Say an American importer signs a contract for pen knives, for example, with a German manufacturer," he said. "The knives are to cost him 25 cents apiece, and are to be shipped, so many each month. He places a 25-cent valuation on the first lot, and everything is all right. Then the price of knives may rise in Germany. The importer again places a valuation of 25 cents on a shipment. He is informed that the price has risen to 40 and he must not only pay an increased valuation, but must pay a penalty for not valuing the shipment at 40 cents."

"There is a movement under way now, however, to base the valuation on the American wholesale price less freight and duty. That is better. The importer can keep informed of the American price, where it is difficult for him to have German market figures at his finger-tips."

For Increases and Decreases.
Bemister said his company had advocated increases on some items and decreases in the schedules on others.

Phil Mayer, president of the North American Electric Lamp Co., said he had filed a brief with the Senate committee asking for a substantial tariff increase on carbon filament incandescent lamps. "About 20,000,000 lamps are imported a year from Japan," he explained. "Most of them are sold by the chain stores. We now employ about 60 people, but with a high tariff, we could quintuple that, and so soon as we got the proper volume of business, could reduce our prices to a par with Japanese prices."

PEORIA VOTES TO CONSTRUCT $400,000 RIVER TERMINAL

Proposition Carries By 5994 Votes to 3088 at Special Election.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 19.—The proposition to build a $400,000 river terminal, construction to begin early next year, carried in a special election yesterday with 5994 votes for and 3088 against it. Approval of the terminal was the first step taken by Peoria to establish a water transportation center here following the completion of the lakes-to-the-gulf deep waterway.

Burglar Leaves Old Clothes.
A burglar who entered the home of George Quast, 1207 Cleveland avenue, East St. Louis, in the absence of the family yesterday afternoon took a gold watch, $2 and a new suit of cloth. He left his discarded garments in the kitchen.

NEW TREATMENT FOUND FOR ANEMIA PATIENTS

Extract of Dried Hog Stomach Used in Michigan U.
Experiments.

By the Associated Press.
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 19.—The Ann Arbor Daily News says a new treatment for pernicious anemia has been developed by scientists of the University of Michigan. The treatment consists of an extract made from dried hog stomach.

The treatment resulted from experiments started last spring at the Thomas Henry Simpton Memorial Institute which was founded for the purpose of finding a cure for pernicious anemia. The treatment was developed by Dr. Cyrus C. Sturgis, director of the institute, and Dr. Raphael Isaacs, associate director, working in conjunction with Dr. Elwood A. Sharp, director of the department of experimental medicine of Parke, Davis & Co.

Study of patients in the institute receiving the treatment indicated that the blood-building agent in the new substance was more effective by a considerable percentage than that which had been demonstrated in liver-treated patients. The use of liver has been recognized for some time as valuable in the treatment of pernicious anemia. Dr. Sturgis said that the work has not reached a stage where the extract is available for distribution to medical centers, practicing physicians and patients, but that general distribution should be possible in the near future.

The physician emphasized that the treatment does not constitute a cure. Like liver and kidney extracts, dried stomach extract must be used as long as relief from the disease is desired.

The substance derived from the stomach closely resembles bits of old sawdust and is practically tasteless. Concentration processes have been perfected which make necessary the use of but one ounce of the extract per day to prevent relapses on the part of the patient. This ounce, it was said, apparently does the work of a pound of fresh liver and of about three ounces of the best concentrated liver extract so far prepared.

Ford Slips Postville Courthouse. LINCOLN, Ill., Sept. 19.—Loaded in two box cars, the dismantled Postville courthouse, made historic by Abraham Lincoln, started on its trip to Henry Ford's American village at Dearborn, Mich., early today with the superstructure. The wreckers also took the original foundation of the courthouse.

STUPENDOUS,
WOODMERE

AQUEDUCT, N. Y., Sept. 19.—J. E. Davis' Stupendous, a 15-to-1 chance, scored a head victory in the Woodmere Claiming Stakes here today. R. T. Wilson's Chatter was second and B. Block's Mordine was third. It was a very close finish. The start was delayed seven minutes by Mordine's twisting and turning but they finally got away to a good start. Cadilla and Mordine broke head and head. Mordine went on while Chatter took back with Cadilla. Mordine led to the final sixteenth where Stupendous came with a rush on the inside, got through and was up to win by a head. Chatter beat Mordine a head for the place. Cadilla was half a length back. The latter was much the best but was poorly ridden. The race was worth $525 to the winner.

TRY AND DO IT!

By Burris Jenkins Jr.

STORM DRIVES BILLIKENS AND BEARS INSIDE

Theory had the upper hand of practice today when the heavy rain drove Bear and Billiken football squads inside. The time was taken up by blackboard explanation of formations and setting-up exercises so no time was lost either at St. Louis or Washington. While Dr. Sharpe and "Hunk" Ande, on deployed the lost opportunity for outside practice, the players of both squads, hard-worked in the past few days, welcomed the lay-off.

Washington has been hampered a bit by the non-reporting of some of the dependables but, text week, will swing into scrimmage. At St. Louis, several scrimmages already have been held with a long one scheduled for Saturday. Right now, the Billikens are much farther advanced than their local rivals for football distinction.

Classes at both universities begin next week and it is probable that the two-day plan for practice will have to be abandoned. When the lights are installed at Francis Field, the Bears will foregather in the evening to prepare for the lights and shadows to be encountered in night games with Drake and Drury.

JOHNSTON, NEW GOLF CHAMPION, WELCOMED BY 20,000 IN ST. PAUL

By the Associated Press. Sept. 19.—ST. PAUL, Minn. (U.P.)—Billards of confetti and waving bands and marching citizens welcomed Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston, National Amateur Golf champion, home to St. Paul yesterday. Twenty thousand persons lined the streets for his triumphant parade from the Union Depot to Rice Park, following his arrival from California where he won the title on Sept. 7.

And just to make it good, one of the world's leading professionals and the country's toughest golf sensation of the year dropped in to join in the welcome. They were Walter Hagen, winner of hot American and British Open Golf championships and Horton Smith, the young professional from Japan, Mo.

BROWNIES BEST AGAINST TEAMS THAT WIN FLAGS

THE St. Louis Browns may or may not finish third for the second year in succession but they have reason to be proud of their 1928 and 1929 records against the teams that won pennants in those two years.

Last year, Howley's men won 10 out of 22 from the champion Yankees—the best record made against the winners by any team in the American League.

This year, meeting the Athletics, new champions, 21 times the Browns won 10 and lost 11 to again lead the opposition in this regard. It is not to be wondered at, then, that the Browns are an attraction on the road and are respected by clubs in the hunt for a flag.

RACING CHARTS AND WORKOITS, TOMORROW'S ENTRIES AND SELECTIONS

EHMKE MAY QUIT BASEBALL AFTER WORLD SERIES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Howard Ehmke, the Athletics' veteran right-hander with the temperamental arm is hoping to get out of the so-called devastating Chicago Cubs in the world series, according to local sports writers.

He may retire from baseball after the series is over, figuring there is no use trying to cure an injured shoulder that refuses to yield to treatment. According to Ehmke himself, however, the news that he is about through with baseball is somewhat premature.

"Of course I want to beat the Cubs in a series game," he told the Associated Press today, "but as to my announcing my retirement at the close of the series, why that is something else I have made no definite decision about retiring. When I do I shall let you know."

Ehmke said he didn't know just what happened to his shoulder that it seemed to have one bad after another at all. Sometimes it is all right, but those occasions are few and far between.

"I haven't been able to pitch a real fast one since 1925 without pain shooting through my shoulder," he said. "I've been like Ponce de Leon seeking the fountain of youth. I've seen Bonsetter Reese in Youngstown and, while he helped me, he couldn't cure me. I've gone further—to California, Hot Springs, Texas and Detroit. No one has effected a permanent cure."

"Maybe I shall retire. Who knows? If I do decide to quit it will be soon. I don't want to let a better way to leave baseball than to retire from a world championship team. That's what the A's will be after they beat the Cubs."

DOWN THE STRETCH

The weights for the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes are 122 and 115 pounds. Thus Whilchone, the outstanding colt of the year does not have to pick up any penalties for winning the rich future, and will likely meet only mediocre opposition in this event which is a highly important two-year event of fall racing. It being at one mile.

Winnle O'Connor, the former rider, is now the trainer of the string of thoroughbreds raced by President Machado of Cuba who is probably the only chief executive of any republic that races horses.

Ed Garrison of Boundless and American Derby fame and the original and only Garrison for whom the expression "a Garrison finish" was coined is to be a racing steward at Kenney Park, Florida, when that track opens in December. Tom Thorpe, a newspaper man and former football star, is in the stand with Garrison.

E. R. Bradley states that the size of Boojum's ears was the reason he thought Whilchone the better colt of the two. "Big ears," he says, "show a flaw somewhere and Boojum showed one when he ran out in the Futurity." Another reason given by horsemen for preferring Whilchone was the fact that this Whilchone star runs with his head lower to the ground than Boojum. The claim being that a high-headed horse is seldom game or a real stayer.

Earl Sande has not signed with any stable for next year notwithstanding the rumor that he had signed with J. E. Widener. "I am still a free agent," he said. He intends going to Florida for the winter in order to fit himself for next season's riding.

Elia Bank, which won a race very easily during the Fairmount meeting over a heavy track, defeated some fair horses at Reulh Park, Columbus, Tuesday and appears to be a good buy for her new owner, who secured her at the recent sale of the Marchbank horses. She is by King Heather and her dam is a Stalwart mare, which are noted for their mud running abilities.

The weights are cut for the Potomac Handicap, which is to be run Saturday at Havre de Grace with $20,000 added. It is a mile and three-thirtyeighths and was won by Man O' War in 1920, which marked his last appearance under colors in the United States. He afterwards ran a race at Windsor, Canada. Rose of Sharon is given rather a high impost for a 3-year-old being assigned 115 pounds, while Beacon Hill gets 122 and The Nut gets 120.

George Odum will have first call next year on the services of Jockey M. McAtee, who has had the best year of his riding career this season. McAtee will thus not sever the connection he had continued for the past several years with the stables of Marshall H. Pines and Robert L. Gerry, whose horses are trained by Odum.

Golfers Are Invited.

By the Associated Press.
TULSA, Ok., Sept. 19.—Officials of the Tulsa District Golf Association today began issuing invitations to amateur and professional golfers in five states—Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma—to compete in the first annual mid-continent open tournament Country Club course. It is a 11500 event. Jay C. Painter, president of the district association, said that pros from any sections of the country would be welcomed at the tournament.

EDDY DENIES HE IS AFTER FAIR GROUNDS

By Melvin D. Falcher

"You may say there is nothing whatever to the report," was the way Robert S. Eddy, general manager of the Fairmount racetrack, answered a query as to the basis of the report which was circulated yesterday that he and his associates, Joe Cattarachi, Placido Frigerio and Leo Dandurand, were about to secure control of the Fair Grounds track at New Orleans through purchase of that property from E. R. Bradley.

Eddy returned from Chicago this morning, where he went on business connected with the opening of Fairmount and to confer with Cattarachi. He also opened arrangements while there for the use of the Fair starting rate at the Fairmount meeting, although this has not yet been definitely settled.

Eddy and his associates now own the Jefferson Park track at New Orleans which is outside the city limits and in another Parish. Eddy and Frigerio were both connected with the Fairgrounds a number of years ago before it's sale to Bradley.

This is not the first rumor of a sale of the Fairgrounds that has been circulated within the past two months, another report being circulated some weeks ago which was the noted radio and newspaper man, E. R. Bradley, who stated that he was "in the Fairgrounds to stay." However, General Manager John P. Murphy and President Steward Joseph A. Murphy, both of St. Louis, returned from their respective positions at the time this first report was circulated.

In all probability the rumor is to be installed at Fairmount will be the noted radio and newspaper man, E. R. Bradley, who stated that he was "in the Fairgrounds to stay." However, General Manager John P. Murphy and President Steward Joseph A. Murphy, both of St. Louis, returned from their respective positions at the time this first report was circulated.

BILLIKEN NEWTON, ANTON AND SALINSKY PROVE STARS IN LONG PRACTICE

By Glen McDonald

That the St. Louis University football team is gradually rounding into condition was evidenced yesterday afternoon at the Billiken field when Coach "Hunk" Anderson sent his variety squad through a two and a half hour scrimmage after having given his men a two-hour drill in the morning. A husky freshman squad furnished the opposition for the variety.

The morning session consisted of charging work for the line under the direction of Coach Anderson and a drill in offensive and defensive passing for the backs and ends directed by Coach "Chill" DeWitt. The afternoon session consisted of a short warm-up in the afternoon, the variety lined up against the freshmen. Davidson started at center with Newton and Anton at the guards, Corcoran and Schultz at the tackles, and Salinsky at the line. The starting backfield consisted of Gazele at quarterback, Eaton and De Christoforo at the halves and Salinsky at fullback.

During the period in which the variety was on the defensive, the work of the two guards stood out. Newton and Anton, both products of last year's freshman team, proved their positions well and used great weight and brawn to great advantage. During the offensive workout the ability of Abe Salinsky at fullback was apparent. Salinsky, another sophomore, is a real line plunger and should be a capable understudy for Captain J. Lintner.

Varsity Scores Three Times. Very little time was called during the afternoon except for the frequent substitutions on both sides. The variety scored three times while on the offense and the freshmen backs managed to get away on two occasions for long runs on forward passes. Several of the variety veterans showed up well. Fred Joseph, 200-pound tackle, displayed his old tricks and broke up many fresh plays before the backs could get started. Jack Joyce and Charley Eaton did some great carrying during their turns at the line.

Cecil Muellerleile, husky sophomore candidate for the center position, is giving the two veterans and letter men, Ed Davidson and Jack Corcoran, a great battle for the position. Muellerleile has a decided advantage over the other two candidates on account of his size, and besides knowing how to handle the ball, he has a good pass. He is a member of the backfield.

Joe Abrahams, another sophomore and a candidate for the position left open by the graduation of E. J. Dirnberger, in his meek manner broke away several runs after he had apparently been downed behind the line of scrimmage. In one instance the Billiken halfback, started to run after several linemen had broken up his interference and after reversing his field three times, rounded a pass for no loss.

WANT CORK BALL GAME. A cork ball game is desired for Saturday or Sunday. For information call William Power, at LA-4646 4769.

Beaumont, With Five Veterans Back, Expects to Be in Title Hunt

By Harold Tuthill

All the known sayings pertaining to every dog having his day and the worm turning are receiving credence at Beaumont High school as its football team is being developed. Under the tutelage of a new coach, Burns Franklin, and with a squad of 110 from which to pick a starting eleven, the school believes that it will make its strongest bid for a football title since the days when Beaumont was known as Yeatman.

Yeatman, and his descendant, Beaumont, failed to win the Yale Bowl, emblematic of the football championship, since the trophy was put into existence, but this year with five letter men and four veterans stars, the North Side fans are inclined to title hopes.

Coach Franklin comes from Northwest College at Winfield, Kan., where he was assistant. He is not unfamiliar with local football since he coached at Alton after graduating from the University of Illinois.

The nucleus for the title-contending eleven is dependent upon the Bohringer and Elmer Nickel, backfield; James Doby and Ralph Simpson, tackles; and Dick Achuff, center, as letter men, and upon Bob Kalbitz, fullback; John Krier, halfback; Lloyd Simpson, tackle, and Ray Margherio, guard, as the new promising of the new material. The remainder of the regular squad will be culled from the aspirants.

Nickel, Doby and Simpson are veterans of last year's Beaumont team, which received its instruction from Raymond C. Lewis. They will concentrate on basketball and track this year.

McBride Eleven Works Hard for Opening Battle

With the opening game of the season, in which the formidable Soldan eleven furnishes the opposition, less than a week off, Coach Toddy Kamp of McBride plans further strenuous workouts for his men during the next few days.

Daily scrimmage sessions have been the rule for a week, and the original squad of 60 aspirants has been cut down to fewer than 40.

In quest of his strongest possible combination, Kamp has shifted several linemen to backfield positions with excellent results. Carter, stellar guard of 1928 and one of the five letter men in uniform this season, is now working at fullback and appears to have clinched the position. Tipping the beam at 170, Carter's weight will be a decided asset in a backfield which, without him, would average less than 150 pounds. Kaveney, a substitute end of last season, is also working out as a back and should become a ball totor of high order.

Brumby, recruit quarterback, will probably call the signals against Soldan, with the halfbacks to be picked from among Pfeiffer, Capra, Kaveney, Josted, O'Shaughnessy, Roth and Drono.

The line is developing nicely. Toddy Kamp, who will be followed at center and Captain Axtell and Conlon at tackles, forming the backbone of the forward wall. Burger and Berghert, squad men of last year, look best at the guard posts, with Dougherty also showing well. A keen fight is under way at the ends, with four men, Boyle, Peters, Burke and Venari striving for the two positions. Ward and Cunningham, two newcomers, should break in at tackle and center during the course of the season.

The schedule:
Sept. 26—McBride at Soldan.
Oct. 4—McBride at Central.
Oct. 11—McBride at C. B. C.
Oct. 18—Country Day at McBride.
Oct. 25—McBride at Beaumont.
Nov. 1—McBride at Western M. A.
Nov. 8—Open.
Nov. 15—McBride at St. Louis U. H.

Dartmouth Team Is Expected To Show New Tactics Under Connell, Tad Jones Writes

By Tad Jones

(Copyright, 1929.)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 19.—Most of the football squads in the East have been hard at work for the past three weeks. With the rough conditioning process behind them, head coaches are giving careful attention to those who are expected to fill the places of the departed stars and in many cases this will not be an easy task to accomplish.

Meehan at N. Y. U. must look a long way ahead to find a trio to replace Strong, Hill and Lassman. Lou Young at Penn will miss Paul Scull in more ways than one, for he was a very valuable one of the great oaks of the last decade.

French and Guarnaccia have gone from Harvard and this pair formed the most successful lateral passing combination appearing on any field a year ago. Howie, Princeton center and captain of last year's eleven, together with Lawlor and Tad Jones, Stinson, ends, are among the making. Roper will find it difficult to replace these men, especially Howie, whom he has always rated as one of Princeton's best.

Toddy Kamp of McBride plans further participation in football, the loss of Edly at tackle and Decker, Garvey and Hoban from the backfield. The unfortunate death of Norman Hall and the injury to Ellis, which will prevent further participation in football, complicates Stevens' problems still further.

Wise Coach Looks Ahead. The problem is the same at every institution, and yet it seems to be that each succeeding year produces a quality of football better than the last. It is a tribute not only to the coaches and their excellent handling of their eleven but to the lads who go to make up the teams.

There are many stars in the making, and as these youngsters adjust themselves to their new position, the football world is amazed at their sudden rise to fame.

The wise coach, however, looks ahead a year or even two in the making of replacements and has been carefully grooming potential stars against the time when they will be sorely needed.

With the retirement of Jess Hawley, Jack Connell has been placed in charge at Dartmouth, and Dartmouth is fortunate in this selection. A keen student of the game and an idealist on sportsmanship, his work will be followed with great interest. It is logical to expect some change in Dartmouth's offensive tactics and defensively as well, but basically I believe the Dartmouth attack will remain the same.

Hard Task for Stevens. Stevens at Yale faces a task harder even than last year, when his squad was depleted by injuries and illness. The inexperience of his players will be hard to overcome.

However, at Harvard, in what he has announced as his last year of coaching, is in the strongest position of his career at Cambridge. His style of play is well established; confidence is running high and while the losses have been great.

Hendricks Will Represent Reds At Draft Meeting

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 19.—Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, questioned about reports that he had resigned, said he would attend the annual draft meeting in Chicago the night before the opening of the world series at the expense of the Cincinnati club, which was taken as a definite indication that he would still be manager at that time.

"If I have to leave Cincinnati, I will naturally go with regrets, but with the consciousness that I have done my best at all times," he said. "When one knows that, his mind is at peace."

Clarence Rowland, manager of the Nashville club of the Southern Association, mentioned as Hendricks' successor next year, yesterday said his contract called for another year with the Nashville team and that he had not been approached by any official on the matter.

The Enquirer published a story stating the club directors had definitely decided not to rehire Hendricks next season.

JOHANNINGMEIER IS BEST PUNTER ON TIGER SQUAD

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 19.—With practice of his 1929 Big Six grid entry only three days under way, Prof. Gwinn Henry, Missouri U.'s most worried faculty member, and incidentally, football coach, has already begun instruction of his class of 60 in gridiron science on Rollins Field in the art of aerial football.

Last year his most apt pupil in that subject, Kern Reese, 225-pound fullback of Mountain Grove, Mo., was eliminated early in the season with injuries, and Johnny Waldorf, 200 pounds, of Kansas City, now Tiger captain, filled in creditably. This fall Henry has both of his star pupils back, and judging from the way they have been demonstrating last year's lessons by tossing passes with precision to Tiger backs and ends, they will not be in need of a lot of instruction.

A combination of backs with which Henry has been using frequently, composed of Waldorf, Reese, Scott Kennedy and Billy Oldham, both of Kansas City, forms a veteran quartet well balanced in ability, averaging about 190 pounds and possessing a punter—Oldham. With the exception of Kennedy, each of the quartet is versed in the art of passing and Kennedy, by reason of the fact he steps 100 yards in 2.9 seconds, does not fit in poorly as a receiver.

Mack Gladden, of Houston and Keith Hershey of Kansas City, who seem at present to have a monopoly on end assignments, both form excellent targets for Tiger asses. East stands well over six feet and is the type of wingman, who, on occasion can snap a pass with one hand.

Weight, it seems, will be one of the things lacking in the makeup of the current Missouri football machine. In fact it is not improbable that Henry will this year open the season with a team that will displace Nebraska, as the heaviest team in the Big Six loop.

It seems probable that the Missourians will be confronted with the peculiar situation of having a heavier backfield than a line. Capt. Waldorf, Kennedy and Reese, an almost certain trio of backfield starters, average about 205 pounds. The line, however, is no feather-weight affair.

Gladden and Hursley, wingmen, each nears the 190-pound mark. The lightest of a half-dozen candidates for tackle positions weighs in at 185, and several are above 200. Leodick McGirt of Odessa and Lawrence McCauley of Granite City, Ill., veteran guards, equal Hursley and Gladden in height. Ray Smith, at about 170 pounds, who must be the regular center position, is the "baby" of the line.

Carl Johannningmeier, who two years ago was starring on St. Louis high school gridirons, seems to have caught Gwinn Henry's fancy, for the big St. Louis sophomore back is a frequent member of the Tiger coach's backfield quartet. In addition to his aptitude at slicing through the line, Johannningmeier has been getting off the best punts on the Tiger practice field.

While the nucleus for a strong eleven remains at N. Y. U., the Violet can hardly be counted on to repeat the performances of last year. Perhaps this is a statement which must be withdrawn later, but it is hardly likely that Meehan will be able to find a trio to replace Strong Hill and Lassman in one year. That N. Y. U. will have a fine team goes without saying, but I question very much the possibility of developing an eleven of last-year capabilities. Comment on Syracuse, Pitt, Cornell, Penn State, Georgetown, Columbia and the service eleven will be deferred to later date.

Stevens at Yale faces a task harder even than last year, when his squad was depleted by injuries and illness. The inexperience of his players will be hard to overcome.

Tongue Twisting Names Plentiful On Big 10 Teams

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The Oosterbaans, Mitterwalners and gagged radio announcers, have gone, but the Big Ten has plenty of trick names to replace them.

Ohio State offers Bueschenschus, Ughely, Kamerschak, Wiragos and Erf, which Indiana matches with Magnabosco, Antonini and Holnacki among others. Wisconsin's threats to easy football conversation are Lubravitch and Ketelaar, which are not so bad when Minnesota presents Fuhrabek, Kakeka and Oja.

Illinois has Nusspickel and Yanuskus to stack up against Yunevick of Purdue, Diefendorf of Chicago and Captain Joe Truskowski of Michigan.

Junior Poloists Are Victors Over Hitchcock's Team

By the Associated Press.

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Polo's young America, represented by the "t" collegiate quartet of Old Alken, handed a stunning setback yesterday to Tommy Hitchcock and his Sands Point team. The hard-ridden and hard-hittin' youths who told the national junior championship outplayed a combination that included three-quarters of the American "Big Four" of 1928—Harriman, Hitchcock and Hopping—in adding another big upset to the polo season.

Old Alken's dashing riders received a five-goal handicap, did not need it, for they won by 13 to 7, actually outscoring their formidable internationalist opponents. It was a semifinal match in the Monty Waterbury Cup tournament and gained 14 Alken the right to play the Greentree four in the finals next Saturday.

It was the second shock within a few days for the Hitchcock forces. Last Saturday they were upset by the Irish-American Hurricanes, featuring the play of Captain C. T. L. Roark in the National Open final.

Schaff to Meet Christner

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—Eddie Mack, Boston boxing promoter, yesterday announced he had signed K. O. Christner of Akron, O., and Ernie Schaff, Boston heavyweight, for his feature 10-round bout on Oct. 18.

However, the Drake game is scheduled for Oct. 12 and some intensive work must be put in by the Bears in the three weeks intervening. Drake is no mean foe and the Washington directors are well aware of it.

Bass Wins on Foul

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Benny Bass, Philadelphia junior lightweight, won from Armando Santiago of Cuba, on a foul in the second round of their 10-round bout at the Phillies ball park last night. Bass scaled 129½, one pound less than the Cuban.

ALL ST. LOUIS BACKFIELD MAY PLAY FOR BEARS

By James M. Gould

Washington University's 1929 football team is not yet out of the chrysalis stage of development and any speculation on a tentative lineup for the opening game with Illinois College, Oct. 5, would be idle. Only primary work is being taken up at the two daily practices and this probably will be continued for the remainder of the week. Not all of the veterans have reported, but as expected by next Monday, Butz and Paris, counted on to be line-regulars, are due to report Saturday if not delayed on their return from Colorado.

As things stand now, the line-men are tamed over to Gail Bullman, with Dr. Sharpe and Johnny Davis coaching backs and kickers and Ralph Kurz, a star end a year ago, in charge of the ends. Head Coach Sharpe believes in getting the hardest part of the work over in the morning leaving the afternoon for lighter conditioning work.

Each day adds a few names to the list of candidates and it is possible that the 1929 backfield may be an all-St. Louis affair with Dick Rawdon, Scott Hornsby, Ted Saule and Richardson, a former Principia star, making up the quartet. Saule starred at Roosevelt two years ago.

The problem of a kicker also is up for solution. Last year, Rawdon, Hornsby and Duncan did most of the footwork. Duncan is gone and the coaches have been tutoring Wald and Springer, two quarterback candidates, in the art along with Rawdon and Hornsby.

It was the idea that this year's start would be late that a so-called easy game was chosen to begin the season. Illinois College, the Bears' opponent on Oct. 5, should offer a good workout without being at all dangerous.

FOOTBALL by James M. Gould

Little Is Overlooked

PRE-SEASON football publicity overlooks little. Each college of prominence has a publicity "movement all its own" and it is remarkable what the writers of it gather. For instance, tucked away in some University of Pittsburgh notes is one about Capt. Al Meolo of the 1929 team. Dr. Meolo is a guard in football and a life-guard in the summer. According to the Pittsburgh publicist, being a life-guard is not so important even though the statement is made that, this summer while employed at Coranville Beach, Pennsylvania on the Ohio River, Dr. Meolo saved 37 lives and that his record is 143 rescues for three summers! If all the people Dr. Meolo had saved were laid end to end, we still would doubt the story.

Illinois University believes in coaching by Illinois men. With the exception of Bob Zupke, head coach, and Carl Voyles who has charge of the freshmen, all Illinois coaches once starred at the university. Among them are Johnny Sabo who while at college won five "t's" Justus Lindgren, captain of the 1901 Illinois team who is starting his twenty-sixth year of service. This is nine years more service than the great "Zup" himself has seen at Urbana. Olander, backfield coach, played from 1913 to 1921 without missing a conference game and Frank Rokusok and Wendell Wilson, both former Illinois ends, take care of the present crop of wingmen.

The Tackle's the Boy.

There's material for a thousand arguments in which is the most important position on a football team, the subject has been discussed for years in baseball without being decided and there is no chance that any quicker decision will be reached in football. But it is quite probable, that if one sent to the coaches of 10 of the biggest universities of the country and asked as to this "most valuable" position, a majority would answer the question by saying, "Well, you see that I have two big husky and fast tackle and I'll take care of the rest of the team."

Naturally, a good field general comes high in importance but a coach can do a lot of the "general's" thinking for him. Nebraska has the best record of any college against Notre Dame; Nebraska always has a pair of good tackles. Which may or may not prove anything.

CUBS' PITCHERS TO BE GIVEN REST BEFORE COMING WORLD SERIES

HALF-HEARTED CHEER GREET'S CLINCHING OF FLAG BY BRUINS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The 1929 champions of the National League, Chicago's Cubs, their collective blood pressure undisturbed by the clinching of the pennant, today faced the business of going through the motions of 11 ball games, before engaging the Athletics in the battle for world title acclaim.

Although no championship has come to Chicago since 1918, almost no excitement accompanied actual triumph of the team assembled by William Wrigley Jr. and maneuvered to the title by Joseph V. McCarthy. Virtually "in" for two weeks, the Cubs had only to wait for the law of averages to do work for them, and finally missed the thrill of making the deciding gesture themselves when Boston administered the coup de grace to Pirate hopes in the first game of yesterday's double-header.

Only a half-hearted cheer greeted the news when the Boston victory over Pittsburgh was posted at Wrigley Field where about 7500 fans sat shivering as the New York Giants defeated the champions, 7 to 3.

McCarthy, Wrigley and President William L. Veeck were smilingly happy.

Wants More Winners.

For McCarthy it was his first championship as a major league manager, earned after four years of effort.

For Wrigley the title was the first as the owner of a major league club, but his imagination did not stop work.

"I started out to get a team that would win a pennant," he said. "Well, the effort has been successful. But I am going to have a pennant every year, if I can—and after that I want an elastic ball park where everyone can get in for a world series."

The Cubs' rise to the championship dates from July 12 when Hal Carlson held the Giants to four hits. The Cubs were four games behind the Pirates but the climb had started. After taking a double-header from Brooklyn July 19 Chicago moved into first place, but slipped back the next day when Dazzy Vance overcame McCarthy's crew.

Batters to Get Rest.

They spent a day returning to Chicago, during which Pittsburgh won another game and went into a one and one-half game lead. On the afternoon of July 23 Root de-

ALTHOUGH as collector of taxes rejected, McKee, to manage the Cards was elected;

And William's defeat in the recent election.

May be the next step in the pennant's direction.

It may be the well-known Republican party.

Would rather see Bill battle Joseph McCarthy.

Against the keen wits of McGraw they would match him.

And so at the polls they proceeded to scratch him.

The primary reason of William's rejection.

Was not that he isn't a wow at collecting.

But rather the thought, that a leader so glib.

In political office, should waste all his talent.

The home town is proud of its native son's record.

Although his career has been more or less checkered.

And so by the voters as many expected.

To manage the Cards he again was elected.

How True!

Cheer up, Bill. There's only one thing more uncertain than politics. That's baseball.

As the Cards win pennants only in even years it might be well to center your optics on the Redbirds in 1930.

And the major league debut of Brothers Grabowski and Lindsey indicate that the ornithological entry from St. Louis will bear watching.

"Holds City Doesn't Have to Pay Gasoline Tax."

Will 'er up.

Feared the Giants and Pittsburgh lost to Brooklyn. The next day produced the same set of results and the Cubs went back to the peak, where they remained, accumulating a lead of 14½ games in two occasions.

Sizing of the pitching staff during the last week has caused real concern, but McCarthy said he would let the hurlers take it easy to be certain of plenty of rest before "matching power and wits with Connie Mack and the Athletics, starting October 8.

BOXING BODY TO INVITE 2 STATES TO JOIN GROUP

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The National Boxing Association, which controls boxing in 31 states and one Province in Canada, wants California and Pennsylvania on its roster.

Stanley M. Isaacs of Cincinnati, who yesterday was elected president of the N. B. A., at the closing meeting of its annual convention, will appoint representatives to confer with members of the boxing bodies in the two states concerning active membership.

Both California and Pennsylvania, among the leading boxing states of the country, work in harmony with the N. B. A., but have hesitated to become members of the organization.

Isaacs, a leader in Ohio boxing and American League affairs, was named to succeed Paul Pheasant, former chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission. James M. Brown of Ypsilanti, Mich., chairman of the Michigan Athletic Board of Control, was elected first vice president; Edward C. Foster of Providence, R. I., was reappointed chairman of the Championship Committee, and also elected as second vice president. The delegates selected Brigadier-General John V. Ciminia, chairman of the Illinois body, as third vice president.

FUTURITY RACES TOP PROGRAM AT MADISON TRACK

Two fast and colorful futurity sprints are scheduled as the chief attractions on tonight's greyhound racing card at Madison, with Dry Creek, the spring Derby winner, and his litter-brother Swift and Sure, competing against such formidable rivals as Devision, Copa de Ora, The Villain, Toreador, Nantanan and Spalding Bowser in the tenth and feature event.

Hargento, the Kuester Kennel star, recognized as the fastest breaker competing at the East Side track, will match his speed and racing skill with a fast-stepping band of juvenile sprinters in the secondary futurity feature, eighth on the card. Solace, Paddock Judge, Kerry News, Reckless Warrior, Glengosk Rebel, Spirit J. and Carlo are the select youngsters to be pitted against the Kuester Kennel veteran.

Dry Creek probably will be the favorite in the tenth because of his impressive performance last Monday night, when he ran the futurity distance in 20.1-5 on a slow and fog-enveloped track, to defeat Copa de Ora by a head. This was the Derby winner's second start and his first victory of the fall meeting. Counting his four successive conquests during the closing days of the spring campaign, the Schaben Kenne ace has captured five of his last six races.

Toreador and Nantanan were also victorious in their last starts, the former chalking up his second successive triumph of the autumnal meeting, while Nantanan has won three out of four races during the same period. Devision, Spalding Bowser and Copa de Ora have also turned in two victories, this fall. Swift and Sure and The Villain, two outstanding stars of the spring meet, have not scored a victory in the present meeting, though both appear to 1 in splendid form.

Hawke's Gold and Robin's River, both winners of Madison debies, and Noble Earl, a Toledo Derby victor, are grouped with a select troupe of routers in the fifth, a distance event at five-sixteenths of a mile. Four of the field in this race, namely, Actor Boy, Flossie Mac, Hilcourt's Wonder and Do Your Best, captured their last engagements. Beckfield Bob, a fast and white greyhound, which has shown rare stamina and driving power in recent futurity sprints, rounds off a well matched field.

Injunction Reinstated

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The temporary injunction under which dog racing tracks in the Chicago area has been protected, was reinstated yesterday by Judge Fisher, pending an appeal by lawyers for the tracks to the Supreme Court.

Judge Fisher recently dissolved the writ, which prohibited county officials from interfering with the races, but told counsel for the tracks he would reinstate it as soon as notice of appeal was given.

Two welterweights, both of whom at one time or another seemed to be on the way to pugilism, will meet in the main event of Matchmaker Tommy Sullivan's first indoor boxing program of the season next Thursday night at the New Coliseum. They are Billy Light of St. Paul and Jerry Grace of Chicago.

Light and Grace have met before, according to the record books, which show that Light defeated Grace in a 10-round bout at New Falls, Minn., last December. Grace fought here twice. The Chicago fighter will be re-called as the stocky, barrel-chested welterweight who put across one of the hardest knockouts seen in a boxing ring in some time when he dropped Les Martin here before the first round of their bout was well started, about two years ago. Grace was brought back to St. Louis as the opponent of Tony Jones of Pittsburg in a fight at the Bulfinch Arena. Grace outpunched his opponent, but was unable to win him for the count.

Much of Grace's fighting has been done in the vicinity of Chicago. He went well for a time, and was given a match with the then champion, Joe Dundee. What some critics called a tip-off on his real form was given when he was defeated by Dundee. Grace was out of the good graces of promoters in search of possible title contenders.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 10.—The men prominent in the rescue of the balloon yesterday by the crew of C. O. Minger's yacht, Helene, when they found the balloon drifting close to the water about 18 miles out to sea.

The rescued were: Dr. C. B. Legalle, vice president of the Detroit Balloon Club and owner of the balloon in which he and his wife were taken; George Ingram, president of the Ingram Steel Co.; R. K. Lee and W. J. Habermass. Capt. L. H. Lockwood was in command of the rescue yacht.

Legalle, one of Detroit's veteran balloon enthusiasts and his companions left the Detroit Balloon Club for a pleasure flight. None of them had ever before had even taken a balloon flight, he said.

The wind carried the balloon

Some distance from shore the passengers discovered that the balloon was sinking slowly. Ballast was thrown overboard but the balloon continued to settle nearer the water.

Helplessly the balloon drifted farther out over the lake for nearly an hour, when the Helene appeared on the scene.

Noting the low altitude at which the balloon—then less than 50 feet above the water—was flying, Capt. Lockwood ordered his vessel to the rescue. A cable was dropped from the balloon to the deck of the Helene, and made fast. The Helene then headed for the Toledo Yacht Club, towing the balloon and its occupants.

When the yacht basin was reached, the cable was passed to spectators who had gathered on the shore and the balloon was drawn safely to the ground.

$21,095,000 GAIN IN DEPARTMENTAL EXPENSES OF U. S.

First Two Months of Present Fiscal Year Compared With July and August of 1919.

INCREASES INCLUDE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

Government Receipts Since July 1 Higher by $42,780,000 Than Those of Period Last Year.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The President Hoover's plea for a government economy, expenses of the various Government branches in the first two months of the 1920 fiscal year exceeded those for the same period last year by $21,095,000.

Figures made public by the Treasury show that in July and August of the new year, the departmental expenses, as compared with $36,412,454 as compared with $34,317,150 in the same time last year.

The total Government expenditures which must be paid out of ordinary receipts, however, showed a decrease of $30,662,422 to $50,350,350. This was attributed to a decrease of $36,000,000 in sinking fund requirements. An additional $100,000,000 of bonds which were purchased for the sinking fund after Sept. 1 offset the decrease.

Figures will not show in the figures until the next statement is issued. Four Government branches spent less in the first two months of the present year than last. Among those showing a decrease was the Treasury Department, which expended $20,496,000, a drop of $2,000,000. The State Department cut its expenditures for the two months by $179,000 to $2,777,000; the Interior Department, $1,525,000, and the Department of Labor by $300,000 to $1,323,000.

The Executive Department itself showed an increase of approximately $400,000 with a total of $93,817; the War Department increased its expenditures by approximately $8,000,000 to $85,650,000; the Department of Justice spent $700,000 more with an aggregate of $4,166,000; and the Navy Department increased its expenditures by $5,000,000 to $61,768,000.

The Department of Agriculture spent $22,359,000 in July and August, an increase of $3,000,000; the Department of Commerce increased its expenditures by $1,600,000 to $7,607,000; the Veterans' Bureau by $4,000,000 to $73,577,000, and the independent offices and establishments by $900,000 to $6,452,000. In addition the District of Columbia expenses increased by $4,000,000 and unclassified items by $25,000.

From July 1 of Sept. 16 the total receipts of the Government amounted to $48,134,453, an increase of $42,780,000 over the same period of last year while the deficit for the period this year totals $11,612,000 as compared with $21,214,000 last year. Total expenditures charged to ordinary receipts amounted to $69,746,709 in the same period as compared with $73,439,014 last year.

HENRY FORD NO LONGER INTERESTED IN MUSCLE SHOALS

Secretary Suggests to Senator Hefflin That Some Other Manufacturer Be Solicited.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Henry Ford is not interested in again bidding for the gigantic Muscle Shoals, Ala., power project and has no interest in the project, according to a statement made by Senator Hefflin (Dem.), Alabama, who recently wrote the Detroit manufacturer requesting that he do so.

In reply to the Alabama Senator, E. G. Leibold, general secretary to Henry Ford, wrote that "We have no plans at this time whereby the power at Muscle Shoals could be utilized."

The letter of Leibold follows: "In reply the writer has been instructed to advise you, that we have no plans at this time whereby the power at Muscle Shoals could be utilized and that it would be beyond the question for Mr. Ford to again make an offer."

"He has also suggested that in his opinion other interests are in a better position to develop and utilize the power and it might be more practical to solicit an offer from them."

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION CLAUSE SIGNED BY BRITAIN; CLASH OVER ARMY RESERVES

Lord Cecil Proposes to League These Be Included in Disarmament—Japan and France Oppose It.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 19.—Signature of the optional clause of the World Court statute accepting the compulsory jurisdiction of the court, by Peru, France, Great Britain, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Czechoslovakia was formally made today in the council chamber of the League of Nations. The ceremony was witnessed by a large gathering of the public.

The Canadian representative, Senator Raoul Dandurand, explained his inability to sign at the same moment. Canada had agreed to sign but instructions concerning the formula of reservation read by other members of the British commonwealth had not reached him, though he expected them hourly.

The Australian delegate also stated that he could not sign the optional clause at the present stage because of the Government crisis in Australia.

Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, read the formula of acceptance by the British Government excluding disputes with other members of the British commonwealth because these members "though international units individually in the fullest sense of the term are united by a common allegiance to the Crown." The clause also contained a proviso enabling disputes to be referred to the court before being dealt with by the court to permit conciliation procedure in the first instance.

The formula was repeated by the representatives of New Zealand and South Africa, the latter adding that while they regarded disputes between members of the British commonwealth as a matter of domestic jurisdiction, they nevertheless preferred to settle them by other means.

Sharp conflict of opinion arose in the League of Nations Disarmament Committee today when the British delegation moved to reopen the question of considering trained army reserves in making the basis for general disarmament.

Lord Cecil presented the British proposal and was supported by the German delegation, but encountered quick opposition from the delegations of France, Italy and Japan.

Lord Cecil described the question of disarmament as the cornerstone of the edifice of world peace and insisted that limitation of land forces, both personnel and materiel, especially materiel, was the most important part of the disarmament problem.

Rene Massigli, young French delegate, presented the Government's attitude toward the proposals outlined by Lord Cecil. He contended that it was not desirable to give the preparatory commission instructions, while it was engaged in its program for disarmament.

Progress Last Spring.

The commission made progress at its last spring meeting, Massigli asserted, the fact that the British Government had changed its attitude on the problem of trained army reserves since this spring meeting was not a good reason for reopening the question. At some future time there might be another change in the British Government, he suggested, and another delegation with different ideas might come.

The French on their part, he declared, were anxious to see the preparatory commission reach a successful agreement as soon as possible.

The British position received the support of the German delegation, Count von Bernstorff declaring that, if the preparatory commission did not revise its program to include consideration of the limitation of land forces and materiel, the League of Nations would be reduced to a mere talking shop.

The idea for international co-operation in these purposes is a comprehensive one, embracing participation by the United States and other states which are not members of the League, as well as by League members.

The plan has the support of most of the strong European Powers. It contemplates an ultimate world economic conference for which a tariff union of two or three years is proposed as an essential preliminary. Government representatives as well as technical experts are expected to participate in these negotiations for economic rapprochement.

There is still some disagreement as to the practical details of this scheme, but sentiment favoring a concerted movement to check the upward progress of armaments and to effect a reduction is strongly prevalent among the delegations.

tion of land forces and materiel, the general conference, when called, would be a flat failure.

Gen. Albert de Marins, representing Italy, supported the French position and disagreed with the view of Count von Bernstorff and Lord Cecil regarding the progress in the preparatory commission.

Japan also supported France, declaring, through its spokesman, Baron Sato, that the present time was inopportune for instructing the preparatory commission to change the scope of its program.

The resolution offered by Lord Cecil reads: "The assembly, being convinced that a progressive and general reduction of armaments is urgently needed throughout the world, expresses its hope that the preparatory commission will finish its labors at the earliest possible moment, and considers that in completing a draft disarmament convention it should consider how far the following principles have been or ought to be adopted:

Contents of Resolution.
"Application of the same principle to reduction or limitation of personnel and materiel, whether of land, sea or air forces."

"Limitation of strength of a force whether by limiting its numbers, or period of training, or both."

"Limitation of materiel either directly by enumeration, or indirectly by budgetary limitation, or both methods."

"Recognition of a competent international authority to watch and report upon the execution of the treaty."

"Disarmament is the only direct and positive safeguard we can adopt against outbreak of war," said Lord Cecil, presenting his resolution.

While some progress has been made in naval and air limitation since 1927, he said, as far as he knew, there had been no progress in land reduction of limitation.

Some critics might say, even there had been progress, while the naval limitation is an important matter, even essential, he said this will not give the security for peace and there must be limitation of land personnel and materiel before there is real security.

It is proper and according to precedent for the assembly to give suggestions to the preparatory commission which might aid and expedite the commission's work for disarmament, Lord Cecil said.

Economic Relations.

Steps were taken today at the League of Nations Assembly to bring to fruition previous suggestions for strengthening helpful economic relations among the nations.

The concrete objectives, as disclosed in the Assembly's Committee on Technical Organizations, are lowering of customs duties and reduction of impediments to trade.

The idea for international co-operation in these purposes is a comprehensive one, embracing participation by the United States and other states which are not members of the League, as well as by League members.

The plan has the support of most of the strong European Powers. It contemplates an ultimate world economic conference for which a tariff union of two or three years is proposed as an essential preliminary. Government representatives as well as technical experts are expected to participate in these negotiations for economic rapprochement.

There is still some disagreement as to the practical details of this scheme, but sentiment favoring a concerted movement to check the upward progress of armaments and to effect a reduction is strongly prevalent among the delegations.

Pavement From Mehlville to Chain of Rocks Bridge, by Way of Lambert Field, Among Projects.

PLANS ANNOUNCED BY CHIEF ENGINEER

By End of 1930, County Will Have Disbursed $4,000,000 of $10,000,000 Bond Issue.

Plans for expenditure by the State Highway Department of $1,600,000 on new roads in St. Louis County of importance to traffic, and for widening of existing State routes there during the rest of this year and in 1929 were made public today.

During the same period, it was announced, the county will have completed expenditure of $4,000,000 of the $10,000,000 county road bond issue voted last year. During the next five years, according to plans discussed at a meeting of the new Joint Conference Committee of the city and county Chambers of Commerce last night, the State Highway Department will have spent $8,000,000 on additional roads and widenings in the county, including the 1929 program, and the county bond issue will have been exhausted.

While details of the county's road construction plans have not been made known, the State's plans are contained in a letter from Chief Engineer Cutler of the Highway Department to the County Court, made public by County Highway Engineer Jablonsky. Cutler referred particularly to a new route, No. 77, which will run from Mehlville, on the Lemay Ferry road, to the new Chain of Rocks Bridge by way of Sappington, Denny road and Kirkwood, Lambert-St. Louis Field and the vicinity of Spanish Lake.

Other new routes mentioned by Cutler are No. 99, to run from Hall's Ferry road and the city limits at Baden to the new Lewis Bridge at Fort Bellefontaine, crossing No. 77 near Spanish Lake, and a route as yet not numbered which will follow in general the course of Watson and Antire roads from the city limits to Eureka and thence connect with Pacific and the present junction of routes Nos. 50, 66 and 47.

PREMIER M'DONALD AND DAWES ATTEND SHAW'S 'APPLICART'

Each Jokes With Other on Play, and Both Enjoy Show.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Premier MacDonald and Ambassador Dawes sat side by side last night at the first London performance of George Bernard Shaw's recent play, "The Applcart." Dawes chaffed MacDonald during the first act during which the Labor Prime Minister and the Labor Government are rudely handled on the stage by the playwright.

MacDonald wined the United States Ambassador that his innuendo was coming in the third act, in which the American Ambassador of the play tells the British King that the United States has torn up the Declaration of Independence and wants to enter the British empire as a self-governing dominion. Dawes laughed heartily at this scene, and both statesmen enthusiastically applauded the show.

The London critics, most of whom saw the play when it was produced at Malvern, were much kinder to it after seeing it a second time, some of them stating that the play is one of Shaw's best.

IRRIGATION PLAN TO HELP RUSSIA RAISE OWN COTTON

$250,000,000 Turkestan Project Along American Lines Decided Upon by Soviet Government.

U. S. ENGINEERS TO DO THE WORK

Amudaria River, 1500 Miles Long, to Be Used to Reclaim Area as Large as Massachusetts.

MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—Convinced that only by adoption of modern American irrigation methods can Russia produce sufficient cotton for its own needs, the Soviet Government yesterday decided upon a gigantic irrigation enterprise in Russian Turkestan.

The project will be carried out along the most approved American lines with a total expenditure of 500,000,000 rubles (about $250,000,000). Arthur Powell Davis, formerly head of the United States Reclamation Service, was designated to supervise this work, which will extend over a period of five years. It is expected to make fertile an arid section as large as the State of Massachusetts.

Davis, who 18 years ago made a survey of irrigation areas in Turkestan for Czar Nicholas, will carry out a considerable part of his work in more isolated districts by airplane.

60 Per Cent of Land in Cotton.
The enterprise is expected to make the Soviet Union independent of the United States and Egypt for raw cotton supplies. Turkestan now yields about 50 per cent of the cotton requirements of Russia. Sixty per cent of the irrigated land will be devoted to cotton culture and the rest to production of wheat, other cereals, fruits and vegetables.

Davis, who built the East Bay Utility District irrigation project in California, which supplies water to nine cities, including Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, will have 30 American irrigation engineers under him.

To irrigate the vast, sandy plains and plateaus of the Gobi and steppes, which in Russian means "hungry desert," Davis and his American assistants will flood millions of acres of land with water from the 1500-mile-long Amudaria River, the largest stream in Asiatic Russia, which the natives call "the river of life," because it bears the same relation to them that the Nile does to Egypt. The Sirdaria River, which the inhabitants call "the giver of gold," will also be utilized.

More than 10,000 cubic feet of water a second will be diverted from these rivers.

Explains the Project.
"The project," Davis explained, "covers almost every square mile of arid area in Turkestan down to the Afghanistan boundary and northward to the forty-second parallel, which is at the mouth of the Amudaria River, and includes the great plains over which Tamerlane, Alexander the Great and other warriors marched."

JEWISH PAPER TO BE 'TRIED' FOR SUPPORTING MOSLEMS

Daily Freiheit to Retaliate by Holding Hearing for Writers' Union.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Friends of the trade union movement in Palestine will place the Jewish Daily Freiheit, an organ of the communist party, "on trial" Sunday in Central Opera House on charges of treason to Judaism and trade unionism by supporting the Arabs during the recent disturbances in Palestine.

The Freiheit group the same afternoon will retaliate by placing "on trial," in Star Casino, the Purse Verein, Jewish newspaper writers' union, for treason to the cause of revolution by expelling members who remained in the service of the Freiheit following its declarations for the Arabs. With the union will also be "tried" its officers and four members who resigned from the Freiheit.

Both trials arise from the position taken by the Freiheit on the disorders in Palestine. At first it denounced the Arabs. Subsequently, on instructions from communist party leaders, it reversed itself, praised the Arabs for "resisting British imperialism," and attacked the Jews in Palestine for opposing the "world revolution."

SWEDISH PRINCES AS ATHLETES

Gustav Adolf Wins Prize as Horseman, Sigvard as Golfer.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 19.—Not to be outdone by their grandfather, King Gustav of Sweden, who at 70 is an ardent tennis player, hunter and fisherman, the two Swedish Princes, Gustav Adolf and Sigvard, sons of the Crown Prince, have demonstrated their prowess in sports.

Gustav Adolf, an experienced horseman, won the St. Erik Cup on the Ulrikadal course, near the capital. This is the official prize of the city of Stockholm. St. Erik being the patron saint of the city. At the same time, his younger brother, Sigvard, won the golf championship of the Helsingfors Golf Club in the Southern Province of Scania.

FRANCE IS AFRAID NAVY PACT MEANS 'ANARCHY ON LAND'

Paris Government Holds to Theory Reduction of Armaments Cannot Be Handled Piecemeal.

SUSPICIOUS OF ENGLAND'S INTENT

Takes Suggestion of Limitation of Army Reserves as Move to Weaken Its Defenses.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—If the opinion expressed in the newspaper Le Temps today proves to be the official French view, France may never participate in the projected five-power naval conference except to discuss naval principles which would be embodied in a later general disarmament treaty at Geneva.

This newspaper, close to the Quai d'Orsay, asserts that just as any Anglo-American naval accord can only be tentative, so by the same token any five-power agreement could be "optional." It reaffirms the theory so steadfastly put forward by the French Socialist leader, Paul Bonaour, at Geneva, that the reduction of armaments is an indivisible problem, which cannot be treated piecemeal.

The newspaper argues that any definite five-power naval treaty would not only dispossess the League of Nations of its task, but ruin the hopes for general disarmament.

If the deas of Le Temps really represent the views of the French Government it would mean that any five-power naval accord would have to be reported to the chairman of the Preparatory Disarmament Commission and be made part of the draft treaty now being prepared at Geneva.

Together with tentative agreements on land and air armaments, the naval accord would then form the basis of a general disarmament conference.

Le Temps remarks that if the question of limitation of trained army reserves is reopened there is no reason why the Powers cannot discuss the limitation of naval reserves on merchantmen which can be transformed into auxiliary warships.

Success of parley endangered French apprehension regarding the character of the prospective Anglo-American naval accord is increasing to such an extent as to constitute a real threat to the complete success not only of the preliminary agreement between the United States and Great Britain but on the larger issue of a

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Defense of the Union Market.

There appeared in your paper of Monday a letter about the Union Market signed Mr. H. C. Harrison Sr., which referred to the market as on its last legs.

A number of articles have been written reflecting upon the market and considerable gossip is going around relative to it which is not only untrue but evidence has been said by people who are not acquainted with the facts.

While I agree that the exterior of the Union Market looks like a bus terminal or like the Battery "A" building on South Grand boulevard, the interior is the most attractive market in the United States. It is true that some of the stands are unoccupied, but show me an office building in St. Louis or anywhere else where they do not have vacancies, or I might ask if the real estate agents could at any time say that they had no stores for rent. There will always be vacancies.

Show windows would unquestionably improve the exterior of the market and make it a great deal more like a merchandising building. A sidewalk which would transform Lucas avenue, between Broadway and Sixth street, from an alley to a street, and make it possible for people to walk on the sidewalk instead of on the street, but these matters can be corrected only by the city officials, and the merchants in the market cannot help that these mistakes have been made.

I wish to state that I have been a tenant in the market since its opening and during that period there has not been a year that I have not made a little money there. The merchants in the market are serving more people than they have ever served in the history of the Union Market and are not complaining about business. The Comptroller is not complaining about the Union Market, and the man who collects the rents does not have any difficulty.

The people who patronize the market are getting more value for their money than anywhere in the City of St. Louis. I cannot, therefore, understand why an outsider would write such nonsense and make such impractical suggestions about this great place. Please, Mr. Harrison, be just a little more charitable in your remarks and let us tell you something about the successful merchants in the Union Market. WILL DOCTER.

Des Moines' Weekly Car Pass.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

NOTE, according to the P. S. C. advertisements, a Mr. A. de Green, traveling salesman, rode the street cars 30 times at a total cost of $1.80, or 6 cents per ride. He states this cannot be beaten in any city in the United States, that he has tried them all and KNOWS.

Well, I haven't tried them all and don't know, but evidently our friend overlooked a city comparatively near to St. Louis that can beat this. Des Moines, Ia., enjoys a weekly pass at a cost of $1.25 with unlimited number of rides during any one week.

I do not want to appear as dissatisfied with the present system of fares, as I think they are about right, but just don't like to see the P. S. C. get away with this sort of advertising. In fact, it is my belief if they would apply the cost of their advertising to improving the service, especially on the north end of the Bellefontaine line, it would result in an increase in revenue for them.

Uniformed Deadheads.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Y what authority do the police, firemen, turnkeys, patrol drivers and park watchmen ride free on the street cars? Why not let other uniformed men like letter carriers ride free, too? They all make good salaries, while working men and working women who get meager wages must contribute to the expense of their street car rides.

A. WORKINGMAN.

Down With the Whiskers!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

CHARITY rushes to the defense of the Prophet's whiskers! Ethelred, sweet Charity, are you not a few hundred years out of line sartorially when picturing Lord Fauntleroy as a medieval romantic? And as to viewing the parade from a well-padded limousine, oh, would that it could be done! Instead one is anatomically bisected from hanging over a borrowed window sill or asphyxiated by a barrage of garlic fumes and other olfactory irritations on the curb.

As to your defense of said whiskers, for a decade or so we elders have been run over by a Scythian horde of uncontrolled modern youth. Is it not high time a little Victorian discipline were meted out, and what better start than to rob the children of this silly illusion of a tottering octogenarian presiding over a court of "love and beauty"?

Present the eager youth of our city with a virile hero, carrying off well a doublet with even a little whalebone therein. You will also serve the darlings with a bit of moral sauce; for, mark it well, when stays and whalebone went into the dustbin, manners and morals went with them.

I am of the same mind as Yquem. A trailing dry goods of a semi-pedestrian bathrobe cut.

EUROPE REDEEMS THE RADIO.

There is a general notion in this country that Europe is a continent largely noted for busted statues and poor plumbing and that it can teach us nothing about anything. Such arrogance is rather rudely shattered by what Europe is doing with radio. Although radio's enormous development took place in this country and we lead the world (see the Radio Show now being held at the Coliseum) in its mechanistic perfection, Europe has shown us how to employ it as a medium for artistic and educational purposes.

In Europe radio is on a noncommercial basis. It is operated by the state and listeners pay a small tax for permission to listen in. This tax in Germany is 50 cents a month. In other countries it is cheaper. From the revenue thus derived it is possible to present the finest programs obtainable without the annoyance of advertisers' interpolations. Says Paul Schubert in the Saturday Evening Post:

An American, tuning down through the European broadcast band, hears a new kind of radio, curiously unfamiliar, yet curiously attractive. It is like straying into one Continental concert hall after another, with side excursions into gilded opera houses, lecture rooms and gay variety shows; it is a babel of 30 polyglot tongues, with music the great international language.

Missing are hours, signatures, ro-d-o-de-o quartettes, crooning messages of good will, pauses for station announcements, call letters, whispering tenors.

There are exceptions to the general rule of European broadcasting. In France, Spain, Belgium and Holland, radio is used for commercial purposes and the programs are palpably inferior to those of Germany and other countries where listeners pay a small sum to be entertained. There is every reason to believe that listeners are highly content to pay for their amusement, and though radios are easy to conceal it is exceedingly rare for listeners to evade the nominal charge. "Public opinion," says Mr. Schubert, "is contemptuous of dark listeners; they are classed with the mythical meanest thief."

An evening at a European radio set presents a most varied and colorful menu. Europe is comparatively small, stations are few and powerful, and a five-tube portable set in Paris or Berlin will bring in almost all of the 23 nations which broadcast. Thus a listener may hear a variety show at Frankfurt-on-Main, a Paris symphony concert, a musical comedy at Stockholm, a performance of "Rigoletto" at Stuttgart, gypsy orchestras at Budapest or an opera being sung in that operatic Mecca, La Scala in Milan. Of course, there are all sorts of educational features, language lessons, political gossip, news bulletins, sports and domestic items, police announcements and economic and financial discussions.

The obvious moral for us is drawn by Editor and Publisher, thus:

In the United States, according to the radio broadcasting press agents, there are 20,000,000 receiving sets. This is probably an exaggeration. But if there are half that number and each would pay 50 cents per month for program material we would have $50,000,000 per annum for our entertainment, even though Uncle Sam might claim ten millions for the job of collecting the cash and administering the broadcasting business. Could we have wonderful entertainment on an expenditure of $140,000 per day? Indeed, yes, the best that the world of talent affords. And what a relief to get a piece of music without having some advertising message crammed into one's ears, whether or not the listener be in a mood to receive it.

It is a fact that commercial usage of the radio in the United States has rendered this new medium, except in isolated instances, a nuisance and a bore. Radio advertising ranges from the cheapest kind of outright peddling to the rather dignified "good will" program, but the selling motif is always present. To sit out an evening at a radio set in this country is to suffer a continual assault upon one's "sales resistance" and to be bombarded by the various schemes of the high-pressure boys to open one's pocketbook. In addition to that, we must endure the constant bickering among stations jealous of one another's advertising contracts or wave-lengths, and the antics of eccentrics who manage to get hold of broadcast stations.

We wonder if advertisers wouldn't be glad to be rid of the radio business altogether and if radio companies wouldn't welcome some new and better system of broadcasts. After all, the latter are interested in selling radio sets and, unless radio programs are worth hearing, who wants a radio set? If poverty-stricken Europeans are glad to pay a small sum yearly (less than the cost of two tickets to the Folies) for really worthwhile programs, certainly we would welcome such a system as a privilege.

THREE BULL'S EYES.

Several popular myths were shattered at the Memphis convention of the body formerly known as American Association of Obstetricians, Gynecologists and Abdominal Surgeons.

A child's parentage may not be determined by blood tests. Science has yet to evolve a method for that purpose superior to the one employed by King Solomon.

Will it be a girl or boy? Science, like fond parents, can only guess. Forecasting sex in certain species of lower animals has been done with fair success, but the human cell has yet to reveal this interesting secret.

Strawberries, spiders and snakes, no matter how they may impress the mind of an expectant mother, have no effect on the infant. D.D., thinks Dr. Haden of California, may affect unborn children, but no casual external influence.

There are approximately 4,574,764 other myths on this general subject waiting to be exploded; this, however, is a good beginning.

THE MARINE CORPS' CARRIE NATION.

By boycotting the town of Quantico, Va., whose existence depends upon the Marine base, Gen. Smedley D. Butler again gives rein to his liquor phobia. Contending that the town harbors bootleggers, Butler is said to have demanded that all residents of the town refuse to deal with bootleggers and that they furnish such information as they may have about the selling of liquor. As a further measure, Butler suggests the water supply may be cut off in certain places. Thus the Marines are to be protected from the Demon Rum.

Gen. Butler's violent attitude toward liquor seems to have arisen out of his Philadelphia experience in 1924-1925. He was detached from the Marines to dry up the Quaker town with military methods, but in the end he confessed defeat and went back to the Marines. Shortly afterwards, he was the guest of Col. Alexander Williams at a dinner in San Diego, at which cocktails were served. A day or two later he filed charges of drunkenness against his erstwhile host and was the principal witness against Col. Williams in the subsequent courtmartial. Williams was removed from his post and reduced four numbers in the promotion list. He committed suicide.

We have been under the impression (gained largely through the excellent publicity of the Marine Corps) that the Marines are a hard-bodied collection of two-handed drinkers. But there has arisen among them a male reincarnation of the famous Carrie of Kansas.

THE NAVAL AGREEMENT.

Details of the naval agreement between the United States and Great Britain reveal the interesting fact that what could not be agreed upon at a naval conference two years ago is agreed upon now.

It was impossible to agree at Geneva that the United States should have fewer large cruisers and England more small ones, but this is exactly what has been agreed upon under the eyes of Mr. Hoover and Premier MacDonald. The United States is to build all or most of the 15 10,000-ton cruisers authorized by the last Congress and arm them with eight-inch guns, while Britain is to have 10 per cent more cruiser tonnage in smaller ships armed with six-inch guns. The principle is apparently to match quantity against quality. Even so, to come down to the ratio agreed upon, England will have to scrap some ships, fail to replace others and postpone the construction of still others. She insisted at the Geneva conference that the necessities of the two countries are not the same, since the British Empire is world-wide and the British Isles are dependent for food upon security at sea. That is true, and America has admitted it.

Such an agreement need not wait upon other nations. Japan, which is in complete accord with the plan to reduce Anglo-American navies, is the only nation which could upset such an agreement. She will not do so. For her to increase her naval power would not merely involve her in costs to which she is unequal, it would also provoke Australia to increase naval protection. Japan is therefore content. What France and Italy do is equally outside such an agreement. The French are primarily interested in submarines and the Italians are merely trying to balance French naval power in the Mediterranean. Those are matters which will annoy the five-power conference shortly to be held, but they will not seriously affect the Anglo-American agreement.

It will, of course, be pointed out that the auxiliary strength of Britain on the sea will still remain far in excess of our own. That will be true; Britain has a much larger merchant marine. It will be true that the British will have more naval bases. Those are considerations the importance of which could hardly be exaggerated without the services of a William B. Shearer. An argument over them would, as the New York morning World says, be interminable. Says the World: "The British have more ships, but the United States has more wheat, meat and raw materials. Sensible persons will hold, we believe, that our natural resources are at least an equivalent factor. The superiority of British naval bases exists; but this superiority is at least balanced by the strategic superiority of our self-contained continental position over the scattered position of the British Empire."

PAGE DIogenes!

Until yesterday Everett E. West, confessed forger and ex-convict, believed every man had a price and it was only a matter of bidding high enough. Today, largely as a result of that belief, he is in the City Hospital nursing a severe scalp laceration.

"What's your price?" he asked Detective Arthur Kourik when Kourik arrested him.

"Got no price," the detective replied. "You're going down to see the Chief."

"Every man's got his price," West insisted, "and I'm willing to buy out."

"Nothing doing," said Kourik. Then Mr. West tried to escape. As a matter of necessity, Kourik subdued him. He struck West on the head with a pistol butt, the righteous anger of an honest man lending additional force to his blow. The laceration of West's scalp is severe where it might have been slight had he merely tried to escape. Not every man has his price.

AMERICA AND THE WORLD COURT.

It will be for Mr. Hoover and Senator Borah to say whether the United States is to accept the very generous invitation extended by the other interested nations to join the World Court.

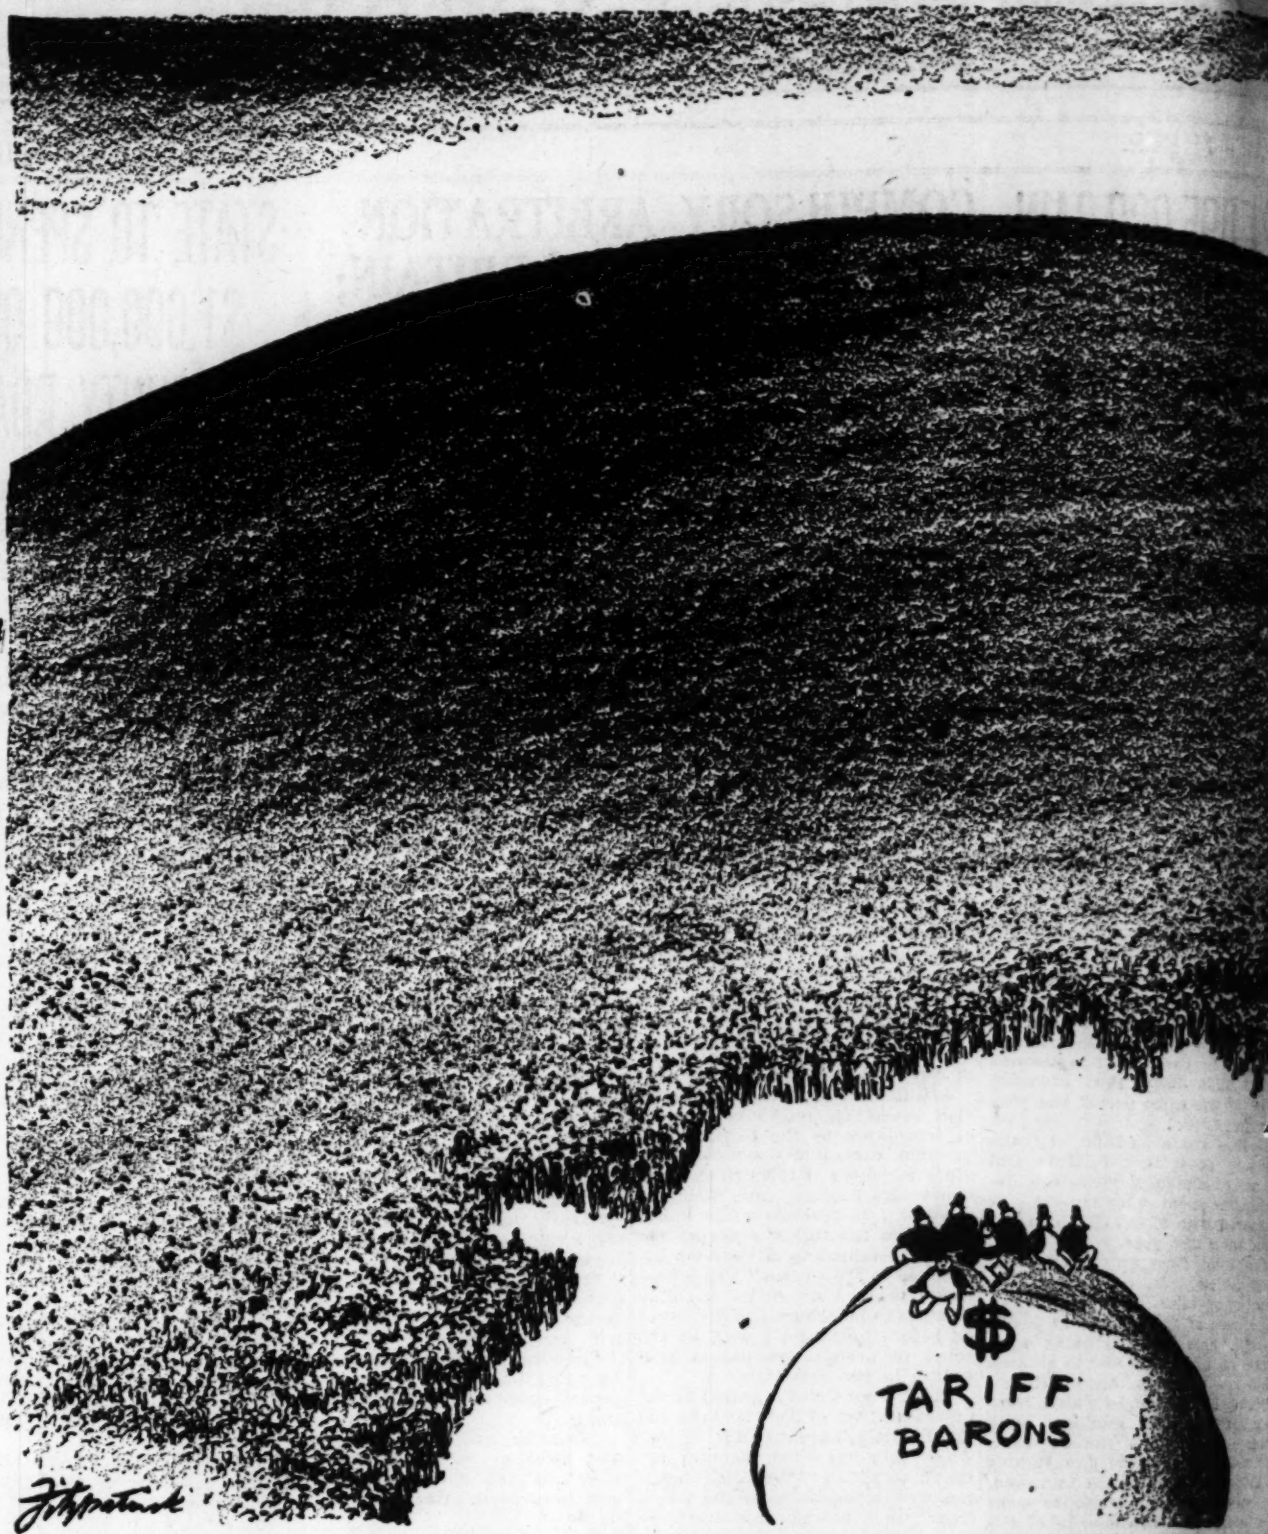

The United States has won its point. It refused to join a court having jurisdiction over any matter in which it is interested, and the rest of the world has agreed to this exception. Mr. Root's formula makes it a little easier for the other nations to do what they have hitherto refused to do, but nothing can disguise the plain fact that to get America in the other nations have agreed to take her on her own terms. The special terms offered the United States provide that:

No advisory opinion on any question touching American interests, nor any question in which the United States may claim to have an interest, shall be asked for until the League has informed the United States of the intention to seek such opinion from the court; and authority shall be given for the exchange of views on the subject between the United States Government and the League.

If the objections of the United States cannot be met, the United States shall have the right to withdraw its membership in the World Court "without any imputation of its unfriendliness or unwillingness to co-operate generally for peace and good will."

No such inducements have been made to any other nation to join. The Springfield (Mass.) Republican thinks the terms are so liberal that the Senate may look upon them with a suspicion that "the world is trying to put salt on the eagle's tail." Only capriciousness, of course, could interpose further objection to joining if the United States really has the will to participate in an international tribunal designed to weld the world into a single society. Apparently we have the will, but our self-sufficiency is such, and our interests are so vast, that we are afraid the court will be used against us. This to a degree which reflects a bad conscience. We do not want justice to sit upon our Caribbean policy, and when the Pan-American Congress meets we see that it doesn't. However, the value of such an international society as M. Briand says the world must have if it is to achieve peace means so much to this greatest of all the industrial nations as to overbalance every other consideration.

The rest of the world knows this. It knows that we only hesitate to surrender the little things to the big. That accounts for a spectacle which would otherwise excite laughter. Our Uncle Sam is to be borne in upon a palanquin, while 40 nations spray him with roses and are America's. Our river system is far better adapted for transportation—and so one might go on. There is a greater density of population in Eu-

HOW THE LOOT IS DIVIDED.

Explaining Europe and America

Old World has better natural resources, yet leadership has passed to New World; political and economic facts are responsible, for U. S. has faced no tariff barriers in building up its territories; unification of continent would be potent force, but Great Britain will oscillate between aiding process and remaining unentangled.

Norman Angell in the London Spectator, Reprinted in the Living Age.

ANY Englishman who has been in the habit of visiting America at intervals during the last quarter of a century will have noticed that whereas originally the Mr. Babbitt of the Pullman smoker would in discussing the foreign relations of the United States speak of, say, Britain—more rarely Germany or France—differentiating between the European countries, he is much more apt now, whether it be a matter of debts, or disarmament, or tariff, or trade, to speak simply of "Europe." Where formerly in his censorious moods he talked of "those bloody Brits," he now talks of the "damned Europeans."

This tendency of Americans to think in terms of "Europe," rather than of its constituent countries, was, of course, greatly strengthened by the circumstances of the war. America became involved in problems which were French or Belgian as much as they were British, and so in the true sense European; and later, after the peace, she declined to participate in measures—like the creation of the League—which, again, were not British, but European, if not world-wide. The question of debts and reparations are European questions, not merely British; and Anglo-American naval rivalry comes quickly to involve France and other countries quite as much; it becomes a difficulty with "Europe."

Like in Europe and America, we have slipped into the habit of assuming, not merely that America is now "the big noise," indubitably the most powerful single national unit in the world, having captured an economic predominance which yesterday was Britain's, but that this predominance is bound to be permanent because it is inherent in the nature of things—in American superiority of natural resources, in more fortunate situation, in physical advantages denied to Europe.

Now there is plainly a confusion here. That America actually is wealthier than any state known to history; more powerful than any European state—all this is beyond question. But it is also beyond question that this is not due to natural physical advantage, but to something else.

Make even a cursory comparison. Nowhere is Europe cursed with the vast stretches of aridity which used to be marked upon the school maps of the last generation as "the Great American Desert." Nowhere on our continent can one travel for whole days and nights in a train without seeing a blade of green grass, or any green thing that is not artificially sustained, as one can when one leaves West-ern Texas on the southern route to California. On the whole, Europe has a richer soil than America. Water and land are far better distributed in this continent for human purposes than they are on the other side of the Atlantic. The American Mediterranean is not open freely to two oceans as in ours; our Great Lakes, the Mediterranean, are not enclosed for six months in the year by ice as are America's. Our river system is far better adapted for transportation—and so one might go on. There is a greater density of population in Europe, it is true, but density of population is often a distinct economic advantage, as the tendency of population to group itself into small areas, which we see even in new countries like Australia, and America itself, shows.

The undoubted superiority of America and its economic predominance today are not to be explained by superiority of natural resources, but by a political fact (which gives rise, be it noted, to an economic one). The States have political unity; Europe has not. If the course of historical development in North America had been more like that of South America, so that English-speaking America had been as much divided as is Spanish-speaking America; if, in what is now the United States, there existed, not one nation, but a dozen rival nations—as south of the Mexican border there are more than a dozen different nations—we should not now be talking about American power and its predominance in the world. North America would figure for very little more in such terms than does South America.

But the physical conditions would be precisely the same—the same soil and air and water and raw materials of wealth. They would, however, because of a purely political fact, be exploited in an entirely different way. Large-scale industry, as we know it in America, would not exist. If Henry Ford had had to drive his car, not over indifferent country roads, but over a dozen hostile tariff barriers, into states, each one of which was determined to have its own patriotic 100 per cent Henry Ford, and if Massachusetts had always been talking of the competition of its trade with that of Pennsylvania or Michigan—well, of course, there would have been no Henry Ford.

If we are to get any clear idea of the relative potential strength of Europe as compared to America, we must imagine Europe achieving at last some unity comparable to that which a happier history has already achieved for the States. In that event we should, leaving Russia out of account, have on this side of the world a unit of 250,000,000 people.

But whatever the degree of unification which is achieved, it is all but certain that British policy will oscillate between an attempt to aid the process of unification and the attempt to keep clear of entanglement and to form, with America, a body detached from Europe, having no part in its efforts to form an orderly society. For, if we are to co-operate in the formation of a society, we are entangled; if each member is "isolated and independent," there can be no unified society.

The final outcome, let us hope, will be the co-operation of the whole of Western or Westernized civilization to the end of creating an orderly and workable human society.

HIGHWAYS AND AIRWAYS.

From the Pers (Ind.) Tribune. A should have a complete network of concrete highways by the time everybody takes to the air.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.

GOV. JOHN S. FISHER of Pennsylvania will offer the long-vanant Keystone State United States Senators to Joseph R. Grundy, multi-millionaire tariff baron and Republican campaign angel, and when "Boss Bill" Vare of Philadelphia gets a final, unalterable and raucous "yes" from the Senate.

No one knows whether Mr. Grundy would decline the toss or deign to adorn it. Should he elect to become a member of a legislative body whose policies he has influenced so often, we would have a pretty tricky political fish for you along the shores of the Potomac.

There seems to be no good reason for Mr. Grundy to yield the power he now holds over a group of Republican Senators in order to become one of them and have just one vote like the lot of them. Then again, there is a very good reason. Whatever the ifs and ands, it may be stated as definite and final, that if "Boss Bill" is bounced out of the Senate for good and all, "Joe" Grundy will have the return of the appointment.

When Senator Reed of Missouri began to pry into the Pennsylvania Republican "gold mine" of 1926 he was not prying for "Bill" Vare.

The Senator was trying to expose Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, who had backed Senator Pepper. The Mellon liked Pepper albeit they could not see eye to eye, and he was a man of his intellect and statesmanlike attainments could be as much politically as he proved himself.

"Jim" Reed went into the inquiry to "show up" Mellon and Grundy. He succeeded in doing so, but in the process it was revealed that Vare had expended more than double the amount the Senate had voted as improper in the Newberry case. "Boss Bill" Vare became the goat.

ENTER Mr. Grundy. Grundy, who is keen-eyed, keen-witted, dapper, energetic, cruel and crushing industrialist, said in a witness chair and stated bluntly that he had given half a million dollars to have Pepper nominated to the Senate and Fisher for the governorship.

Asked why, Grundy never blinched. He thought it was a good investment. He would like to have a favorable administration at Harrisburg when manufacturing taxes were at issue. He would prefer to have a friend than a foe in the old state house along the river front drive.

Would the United States Senate in rejecting a Vare for receiving contributions of $700,000 accept a Grundy who had sworn he gave a half million of a larger "slush fund" to beat Vare? Vare never boasted of writing legislation. Grundy had been writing textile schedules in Republican tariff bills for years.

Should Grundy prefer to write tariff bills from the Senate floor instead of from the suite in the Willard, what would the Senate do about it? What should it do? The vote Vare to get Grundy?

A Great Story.

THE STORY OF THE RED MAN. By Flora Warren Seymour (Longmans).

So far as this writer knows, there was no accurate and comprehensive history of the North American Indians in a single volume until Flora Warren Seymour wrote her "Story of the Red Man," which has been published this week. The task must have been a difficult one, not so much in the selection of representative material from the vast amount of data to be considered and in the co-ordination thereof as to make a flowing narrative. Mrs. Seymour has succeeded admirably, and thanks to her it is now possible for the average reader, with no special interest in Indian history, to achieve a just view of the white man's relations with the natives he displaced from the discovery of America to the present day.

In our day when enterprising journalists are constantly casting about for promising book material, it is surprising that the task of writing such a book was left to someone with special qualifications for dealing with the subject. Mrs. Seymour was well prepared for her task both in knowledge and in sympathy. Seven years ago she was appointed to the Board of Indian Commissioners, being the only woman who has ever held that position, and in pursuance of her duties she has come into intimate contact with the various tribes, thus acquiring the Indian viewpoint.

It's a truly great story, and could scarcely be made otherwise even by a negligible writer, for it is the tale of a primitive people's struggle for existence against an overwhelming invasion. Mrs. Seymour has felt the greatness of it, and has told it with a fine sense of the human values involved. Already she has found at least one enthusiastic reader who is truly grateful to her. There will be many others.

reader, with no special interest in Indian history, to achieve a just view of the white man's relations with the natives, he displaced, from the discovery of America to the present day.

In our day when enterprising journalists are constantly casting about for a new book material, it is surprising that the task of writing such a book was left to women with special qualifications for dealing with the subject.

Mrs. Seymour was well prepared for her task both in knowledge and in sympathy. Seven years ago she was appointed to the Board of Indian Commissioners, being the only woman who has ever held that position; and in pursuance of her duties she has come into intimate contact with the various tribes, thus acquiring the Indian viewpoint.

It's a truly great story, and could scarcely be made otherwise

even by a negligible writer, for it is the tale of a primitive people's struggle for existence against an overwhelming invasion. Mrs. Seymour has felt the greatness of it, and has told it with a fine sense of the human values involved.

Already she has found at least one enthusiastic reader who is truly grateful to her. There will be many others.

Byrne. (Century.)

If Donne Byrne had had a fore-warning of his death, he could not have ended his career more fittingly than with "Field of Honor,"

a book which he has influenced just one vote like the lot of them. Then again, there is a very good reason.

Whatever the life and ends, it may be stated as definite and final, that if

"Boss Bill" is bounced out of the Senate for good and all, "Joe" Grundy will have the refusal of the appointment.

WHEN Senator Reed of Missouri began to pry into the Pennsylvania Republican "gold mine" of 1926 he was not gunning for "Bill" Vane.

The Senator was trying to expose Andrew

W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, who had backed Senator Pepper. The Mellon liked Pepper albeit they could not comprehend how a man of his intellectual and statesmanlike attainments could be as dumb politically as he proved himself.

"Jim" Reed went into the inquiry to "show up" Mellon and Grundy. He succeeded in doing so, but in the process it was revealed that Vane had expended more than double the amount the Senate had voted as improper in the Newberry case.

"Boss Bill" Vane became the goat.

ENTER Mr. Grundy. Grundy, who is keen-eyed, keen-witted, dapper, snappy, cruel and crushing industrial giant, sat in a witness chair and stated bluntly that he had given half a million dollars to have Pepper nominated to the Senate and Fisher for the governorship.

Asked why, Grundy never blinched. He thought it was a good investment. He would like to have a favorable administration at Harrisburg when manufacturers taxes were at issue. He would prefer to have a friend than a foe in the old stone house along the river front drive.

Would the United States Senate in rejecting a Vane for receiving contributions of $700,000 accept a Grundy who had sworn he gave a half million of a larger

"slush fund" to beat Vane? Vane never boasted of writing legislation. Grundy has been writing textile schedules in Republican tariff bills for years.

Should Grundy prefer to write tariff from the Senate floor instead of from suite in the Willard, what would the Senate do about it? What should it do? There out Vane to get Grundy?

FLORA WARREN SEYMOUR.

"Hangman's House," and "Destiny

Bay," the historic view of "Brother Saul." All the dexterity of the man is evident in this story of the Napoleonic era.

Rich as the period is in detail,

Byrne has very effectively chosen to give tableaux rather than descriptions. The book is a series of preludes of exquisite prose, swift, conclusive instants of history, and chapters of romance that only an Irish poet could write. The skill with which the author treats situations loses none of its subtlety in an ambitious plan of characterization. Here again, it is the climatic point that he records—Nelson fall-

Hamilton raging in London; Pitt dying in an agony of protest; the King of England tottering into insanity; Castlereagh overwhelmed by intrigue; Josephine gambling on her beauty after the desertion of Napoleon, and finally Napoleon tearing through the continent with less of glamor and more of pathos than most historians have found in the subject.

"Field of Honor" combines two stories. It deals primarily with the struggle between Lord Castlereagh,

English Minister of War, and Napoleon for the mastery of Europe.

In its minor theme, it is the romance of Garrett Dillon, loyalist orphan, and his wife, Jocelyn, rebel orphan, whom all Ireland helped to unite. Only in their allegiance to country did they differ. Garrett seems "bloody" Castlereagh while his wife remained faithful to the Irish martyrs who were her kin.

With the outbreak of the war, Garrett leaves the daughter of the "giant mad Munroes" for a place in the British diplomatic service.

Castlereagh, who could laugh at the boy's naïveté, chose him as his personal aide, because Garrett was

"the door through which he could escape the mist of intrigue and thunder of battle into the fairland of Irish boyhood."

The compiler wondered if love could possibly burn as hot a flame in this mechanistic age as in the old days. She looked into the matter and has come to the conclusion that it does. As a matter of fact, she has found all degrees of temperature in modern love poetry.

The hottest she has placed by itself under the title, "Love Aflame." Thereafter there's a steady cooling off process until we come to "Ashes of Love" and "Mystic Love," the latter being far below average summer heat.

One of the best selections in the book is by John Haynes Holmes.

He wants to know what's the matter with him, if anything. The question occurred to him "after reading D. H. Lawrence, Sherwood

Anderson, et al." Here is the last stanza:

Come, physicians of the soul,

Tell me why I'll

I've been married 18 years

And still adore my wife,

I have no hunger for other women,

I am content to be faithful,

I am resigned to decency,

I actually think I have found love

And life.

What's the matter with me?

You're just not crazy enough to be quite "modern." John.

SECRETARY OF LABOR URGES

UNEMPLOYMENT BE REMEDIED

Tells Industrial Leaders Anti-Trust Laws Should Be Changed If They Cause Lack of Work.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Unemployment, notably in the coal and textile industries, will seriously affect the nation's purchasing power unless corrective measures are taken, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis declared yesterday in an address before the American Industrial Leaders' Association. In an address here, Davis said the Sherman anti-trust laws should be closely studied and if they were found to be a contributing cause of unemployment they should be modified or repealed.

The Secretary brought a message from President Hoover urging members of the association to work for "any legislation that might benefit the country." The speaker said Mr. Hoover had accomplished more in the first six months in office than any of the three Presidents under whom he had served.

$1,400,000 INCREASE

IN TAXES INDICATED

Total Assessment in City Is $1,205,665,730 as of June 1, 1928.

A $1,400,000 increase in this year's tax collections for the city was indicated in tax bills, on a total assessment of $1,205,665,730 as of June 1, 1928, sent by the Assessor today to the Comptroller for checking.

The bills will be payable up to Sept. 15. Probably a month will be consumed before the 202,340 bills get to the Collector for mailing to taxpayers.

Assessments on real estate amounted to $1,042,925,560, and on personal property, to $162,742,170. Last year's collections were based on assessments as of June 1, 1927, totaling $1,172,002,100, of which $1,001,326,110 was in real estate and $170,675,990 in personal property.

Taxes collectible this year were computed, on the basis of $2.69 on the $100 valuation with the exception of steamboat property, at a total of $32,429,562, of which $1,567,365 goes to the State, $10,489,261 to the schools and $20,372,904 to the city.

Steamboat property was assessed at a valuation of $179,000 for the year's collections, and at $164,240 for last year. It is taxed $1.10 on the $100 valuation.

Assessments last year, with that exception, were computed at $2.62 this year. The increase, however, does not benefit city revenues proper but goes to schools and financing of bond issues.

Last year's total taxes amounted to $30,703,959, of which $1,640,802 went to the State, $10,079,218 to the schools and $18,983,937 to the city.

The figures for this year do not include public utilities, which are assessed by the State Board of Equalization. An increase is expected this year. Last year's public utilities taxes amounted to $2,183,336 on an assessment of $93,333,437. This included $1,370,001 for the city, $116,666 for the State and $716,667 for the schools.

MOVE TO PRESERVE RELICS

OF U. S. CRUISER ST. LOUIS

Movement to Obtain Bell and Silver Service for Exhibition Here Is Begun.

Capt. G. F. Schwartz, in command of the Sixth Area of the Ninth Naval Reserve District, which includes the Seventh Battalion in St. Louis, is seeking to bring here as a permanent exhibit the ship's bell and silver service of the cruiser St. Louis, which is soon to be dismantled.

A committee of officers of the Seventh Battalion will call on Mayor Iller tomorrow to enlist his aid in the project, after which a request to the bell and silver service will be addressed to Secretary of the Navy Adams on behalf of the citizens of St. Louis. The service, according to naval custom, was donated to the cruiser by the city of St. Louis when it was put into service.

Capt. Schwartz hopes to have the exhibit on display before Navy day, Oct. 23. In that event it will probably be placed on exhibition in the Jefferson Memorial and perhaps later will be displayed permanently in the Naval Reserve Armory at the foot of Ferry street.

Davis drew a knife and stabbed him, the saloon keeper. Arrested later, Davis, according to police, admitted the stabbing but pleaded self defense.

INDUSTRY HAS NEVER BEFORE SEEN A TRUCK ENGINE LIKE THIS!

SPEED WAGONS—
Powered by this Mighty
New REO Gold Crown Engine—Will Outlast and Outperform Any Other Trucks of Their Size Built Today—Say Men Who Know

BASED on figures* Reo has rightly claimed a long life record in mileage as well as in years for Speed Wagons—a record we believe without equal in the history of the industry.

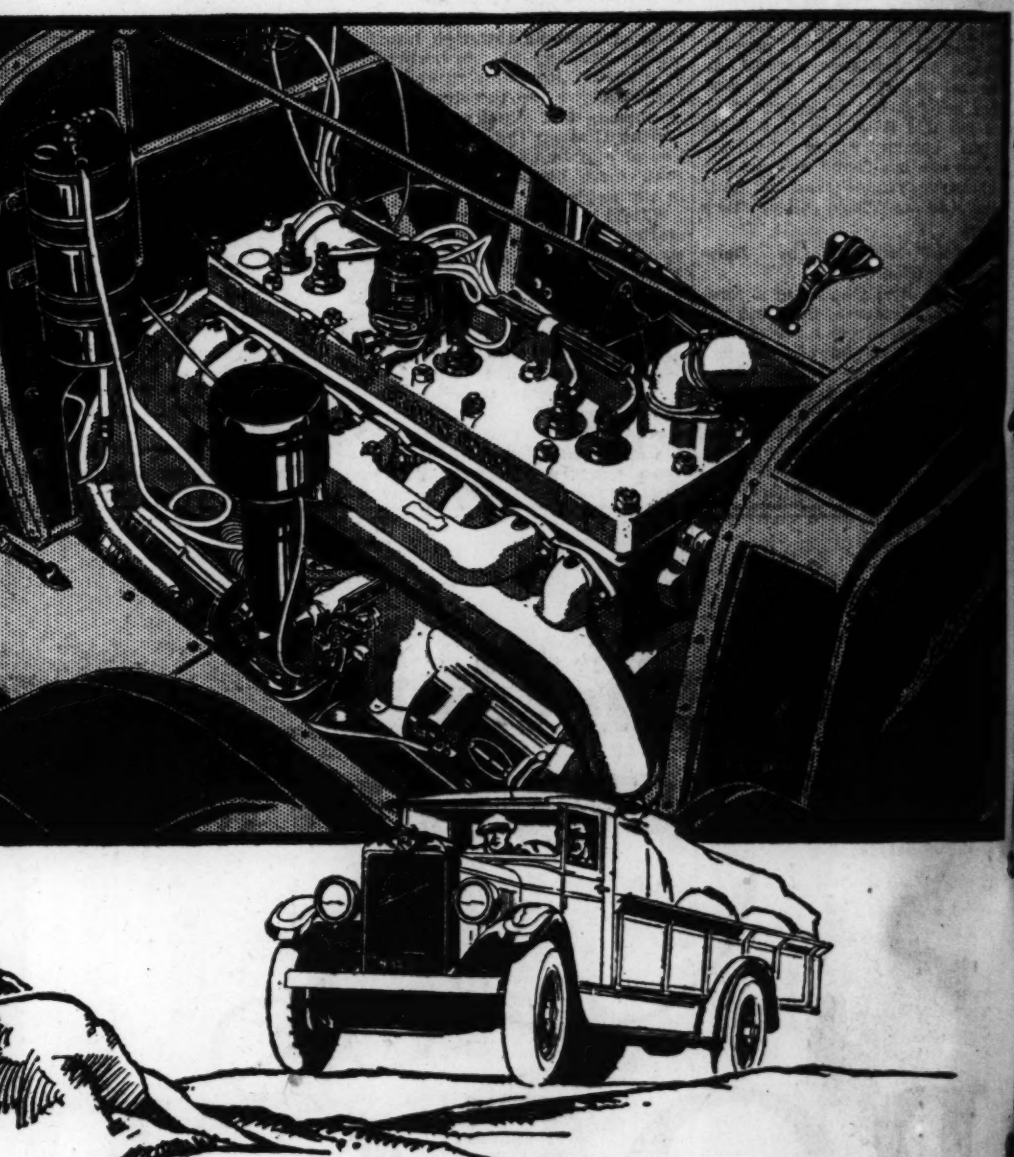

Now Reo engineers, say recognized transportation experts, have even bettered this outstanding record.

They developed an utterly new engine for these faultless 1½ to 3-ton Speed Wagons. An engine that now makes possible passenger car speed, economy and flexibility in this field!

But—even more important—they made these new performance qualities permanent in the mighty Reo Gold Crown Engine. New long life materials were developed. Chrome nickel alloy cylinder blocks with 7 times the wear resisting qualities of conventional iron. A new type low expansion piston that permits of much closer fit and consequently assures greater power. This new aluminum alloy is so tough that scuffing and roughing are eliminated—they should outlast 3 ordinary pistons! These are just a few of the many advancements.

Throughout the chassis you will find the same evidence of long life design, materials and manufacture. Even down to the smallest drop forging—given the finest heat treating and consequent strength.

The success of these new faultless Speed Wagons has been world-wide—and is steadily mounting to a new sales record. It took a Reo to beat a Reo!

Come in or 'phone. Let us show you conclusive proof that it is unwise to pay less and unnecessary to pay more than Speed Wagon prices for the longest lasting, finest performing transportation built today.

These faultless Reo Speed Wagons are offered in 14 wheelbase sizes—from 115 to 179 inches. Chassis priced from $895 to $2,200, F. O. B. Lansing. They incorporate such modern-day advantages as 4-forward speed transmission, 4-wheel, 2-shoe, internal expanding hydraulic brakes, 6-cylinder engine, 7-bearing crankshaft, Myers built-in chassis lubrication and other refinements. ## BIG FOUR ROUTE

FRANCE IS AFRAID NAVY PACT MEANS "ANARCHY ON LAND"

French fears voiced on public platforms, in the press and by authoritative circles are echoed from other parts of the continent, chiefly Geneva. From Germany has come full approval of the trend of affairs regarding armaments, but French spokesmen intimate similar continental powers share concern regarding developments which it is feared might be beneficial to former enemy nations of the World War or which would, by means of a far-reaching Anglo-American political, economic strengthen British political power in Europe and other parts of the world, at the expense of legitimate French development as a world power.

French observers are watching Geneva as closely as London and Washington for moves likely to work out unfavorably for France. One is seen in Viscount Cecil's proposal before the League of Nations that the question of trained army reserves, always a delicate point on the continent, must be ultimately considered in the general disarmament scheme.

Alarm was expressed by the newspaper L'Intransigeant, which characterized Lord Robert Cecil's move at Geneva to reopen the question of limitation of trained army reserves as a bold effort to weaken French national defense.

Anglo-Saxon Supremacy

"On the sea there is an Anglo-Saxon supremacy which it is now planned to make legal and definitive. But on land England desires an anarchy which will permit it to reign supreme through dividing others," says L'Intransigeant.

The French view is enthusiastically supported by the Journal de Geneva which goes so far as to express doubt whether a five-power conference will take place, saying it is not at all sure that France and Italy will refuse to participate in the 1927 Geneva conference will agree to be represented.

The Geneva paper says that in France and no doubt in Italy and Japan, Great Britain and America in expressing the desire to eliminate submarines from naval armaments are trying to reach an agreement at the expense of their partners.

From Germany, as indicated by the semi-official Diplomatische Politische Korrespondenz, the opposite view is expressed: "The remaining difference between the two Anglo-Saxon powers need not be regarded too seriously," says the newspaper. "Complete security, however, lies only in complete disarmament. The governments and the press should do their utmost to convince their peoples of this fact. America and Great Britain have set an example."

THREE STEEL COMPANIES IN $150,000,000 MERGER
New Concern to Be Sixth Largest in U. S., With Offices in Four Cities.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.—Details of the reported three-cornered merger creating the sixth largest steel corporation, were made public today, following confirmation of the deal, which unites the Weirton Steel Co. of Weirton, W. Va.; the Great Lakes Steel Corporation of Detroit, and the M. A. Hanna Co. of Cleveland.

The new company is to be incorporated under the laws of Delaware, with offices at Wilmington, Cleveland, Detroit and Pittsburgh. George A. Fink, head of the Great Lakes company, will be president of the combined organization. E. T. Weir, president of the Weirton company, will be chairman of the board and George M. Humphrey of the Hanna company, chairman of the Executive Committee.

A holding company will take over the stock of the Weirton and Great Lakes companies, and the subsidiaries of the Cleveland concern. Combined assets, it was said, probably would exceed $150,000,000. The companies will retain their identities and operating personnel.

One reserves of the combination will be second only to those of the United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel companies, it was said.

PEACOCK TRIAL ADJOURNED FOR DAY; 12 HAVE TESTIFIED

Police Captain Tells of Defendant Asking Him About Justifiable Homicide.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 19.—With the testimony of a dozen prosecution witnesses in the record, the trial of Earl Francis Peacock for the murder of his wife, Dorothy, was adjourned today. No reason was given by the court for the 24-hour interruption in the proceedings which will be resumed tomorrow.

At the end of yesterday's session Capt. Michael Silverstein of the Mount Vernon, N. Y., police was on the stand telling how the 21-year-old radio technician had confessed the killing to him after inquiring about the law on justifiable homicide.

Dr. Amos Squires, medical examiner at Westchester County, and Dr. John A. Gonzales, deputy chief medical examiner of New York City, testified that Mrs. Peacock died of manual strangulation.

After appealing for intervention by the United States Department of Labor in the dispute, a mass meeting of union members voted unanimously last night to decide finally Monday whether or not to strike.

The local union, in its appeal to the Department of Labor, asserts that the textile corporation has not fulfilled the agreement which ended last spring's strike. The mill officers have issued a statement denying the contentions of the unionists and asserting they were not interested in the accusations of "outside organizations."

When BABIES are upset

Baby ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea—a condition it is always important to check quickly. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready? There is nothing that can take the place of this harmless but effective remedy for children; nothing that acts quite the same, or has quite the same comforting effect on them.

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria; the genuine bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Two cheerful young ladies were wanted to rent the spare room in a private home. A Post-Dispatch Room For Rent advertisement found them promptly.

Says NIRAUS, of Madrid

Beauty Specialist Renowned Throughout Spain

"All my clients are asked to use no soap except Palmolive. The pure palm and olive oils of which it is made give the skin deep thorough cleansing. Daily cleansings with Palmolive have a tonic and rejuvenating effect on the skin."

Niraus
Madrid

"Regular cleansing twice a day with Palmolive Soap is my advice to my clients. The effect of the pure palm and olive oils in this soap keeps the skin always in the proper condition."

SPANISH skies are apt to be hard on the skin. Niraus, of Madrid, for that reason urges his charming clients to guard against aging texture by washing with the gentle oils of palm and olives.

"No skin can remain healthy for long unless it is thoroughly cleansed twice a day with soap and water," the great Spanish dermatologists will tell you. And they go on to say, as Tejero of Barcelona does, that Palmolive is the best soap in their experience, because of its skillful blend of palm and olive oils, the world's most valuable cosmetics.

In fact, Niraus, of Madrid, says definitely: "All my clients are asked to use no soap except Palmolive. Daily cleansings with Palmolive have a tonic and rejuvenating effect on the skin."

Niraus is a skin specialist of wide experience, and he, like Tejero, has an enviable reputation throughout Spain, where his clients number women of great distinction.

The treatment they both advise is so simple: massage a lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water into the skin. Rinse with warm water, graduated to cold. Then—make-up!

Everywhere that beauty culture is practiced . . . in every great city of Europe, in American cities, small towns, smart resorts . . . more than 17,002 beauty specialists recommend the daily use of Palmolive Soap to keep skin young, fresh colored, beautiful.

Never, in the history of beauty culture, has any product had such overwhelming professional endorsement. These experts know the way to skin beauty. They practice their own advice. Their clients are proof of its wisdom.

Do you use Palmolive? One week's use will show you why it is the first of all facial soaps in America and 48 other countries.

Most tremendous endorsement ever given to any product—17,002 beauty experts—in America alone—recommend Palmolive Soap!

250,000 FREIGHT CARS NEEDED IN THIS AREA

Will Be Required to Ship Missouri-Kansas Products, Board Is Told.

More than 250,000 freight cars will be needed to haul grains and grain products, livestock and packing house products, and petroleum and its products from the Missouri-Kansas district during the last three months of 1929, according to estimates made by the various commodity committees of the Trans-Missouri-Kansas Shippers' Board, which held its quarterly meeting yesterday at Hotel Jefferson.

The shippers, who are organized throughout the country to co-operate with the railroads through the American Railway Association, report, in nearly every case, an increase in shipments over the same period in 1928. In addition to products already mentioned, there are a dozen others that will fill more than 50,000 freight cars originating in the Missouri-Kansas district. Grain and its products will fill an estimated number of 11,500 cars. Livestock and packing-house products will be next with 87,435 cars and petroleum and its products will require 58,732 cars. Reporting on finance and credit at the meeting, O. M. Atteberry, Deputy Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank here said: "This year borrowing for financing agriculture will be of considerable proportions, both because of the large size of the chief crops and relatively high prices being realized for them. In the instance of winter wheat, borrowing has already been in heavy volume, greater, in fact, than during preceding seasons. This is accounted for by the rapidly high grain has moved from the fields, a desire on the part of holders to postpone marketing until a more favorable outlet developed, and heavy carry-over inventories of flour milling and elevator interests from the 1928 crop. One very large bank which specializes in this class of business, reported that its grain loans outstanding toward the middle of August were full 50 per cent larger than at the same time last year, and the largest in its history. In greater or lesser degree, this is doubtless true of other commercial banks."

FRENCH AND U. S. MOVIE MEN REPORTED NEAR AGREEMENT

One-for-Three Regulation on Purchase of Films to Be Suspended.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Sept. 19.—A truce in the controversy between French moving picture interests and American producers is being arranged by Harold L. Smith, representing the motion picture organization of the United States, and Francois Poncet, French Minister of Fine Arts. Some details of the agreement remain to be settled, but in the main the accord will be based on the suspension of the regulations whereby American producers are required to buy one French picture for every three American films sold in France. This regulation will not be abrogated at once, but will be kept in force while negotiations continue and American producers meanwhile will come back to the French market and supply French exhibitors whose interests have been suffering because of a lack of American pictures.

POPE HAS TWO-HOUR TALK WITH ITALIAN AMBASSADOR

Reported to Have Discussed Controversy Over Status of Catholic Lay Groups.

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 19.—Friction between the Holy See and the Fascist Government over the status of members of Catholic lay organizations and the Government's attitude toward them is understood to have been the main topic discussed during a two-hour audience which Pope Pius accorded today to Count de Vecchi, Italian Ambassador to the Vatican.

Recently Premier Mussolini announced there were 9000 watchers exercising a surveillance of activities of the clergy throughout Italy. This brought a vigorous reply from Pope Pius, who denounced differences and distrust aimed against the Catholic organization for the young.

"If many scouts watch over you and over Catholic affairs, you must tell the Catholic youth that the Pope watches," the Pontiff told 300 ecclesiastical monitors of the Catholic organization Monday. "Have therefore serene confidence in no alarm," he said.

FOUR INQUIRIES BEGUN INTO SECOND FLOGGING

North Carolina Governor Has Aid Investigate Attack on Textile Union Organizer.

KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C., Sept. 19.—Four separate investigations of the flogging of Cleo Tesenair of Baltimore, Md., organizer for the National Textile Workers' Union, and the dynamiting of a platform used by union speakers, latest of many acts of violence accompanying strikes in North Carolina textile centers, are in progress today.

The flogging was the second in which 10 days, three union members were kidnapped and one of them lashed by a mob early last week.

Gov. O. Max Gardner sent his executive counselor, N. A. Townsend, here to make an inquiry and also requested L. S. Spurling, solicitor of the district, to make "a diligent search and prosecution" in connection with the flogging and dynamiting.

Sheriff Irvin M. Allen of Cleveland County began an investigation yesterday. Sheriff J. P. Wright of Gaffney, S. C., also began an investigation on evidence that Tesenair was carried across the State line into South Carolina before being flogged. Officers said there were no definite clues to the identity of Tesenair's assailants.

The union organizer could give but a brief description of the three men who, he said, took him from his home in the Bonnie Mill village shortly after midnight, carried him across the State line and flogged him.

Cleveland County officers expressed belief that the destruction of the union speaking stand was not the work of the same men who kidnapped Tesenair. It was destroyed by an explosion which shook Kings Mountain about 20 minutes after the time Tesenair said he was taken from his home and officers said there was no evidence a time fuse had been set.

The platform was on a lot rented by the union and used as a meeting place.

Civil Liberties Union Prepares to Fight Strikers' Enemies.

By the Associated Press.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 19.—Roger Baldwin, a director of the American Civil Liberties Union, is here today conferring with officers of International Labor Defense preparatory, he said, to instituting both civil and criminal actions against "those who have sought to deprive people of their civil liberties."

Baldwin said among actions contemplated were suits against Sheriff John R. Irwin Jr., of Mecklenburg County for false arrest in connection with the arrest of eight men at a house here rented by International Labor Defense on charges of conspiracy to overthrow the State Government. A quantity of arms and ammunition was found in the house. Charges against the men were not pressed.

Baldwin said he would leave tonight or early tomorrow for Marion, where Alfred L. Hoffman, Southern organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, and 59 union members there have been indicted on charges of rioting and rebellion against the State as a result of strike disorders Aug. 31.

Venire From Another County to Try Marion (N. C.) Rioters.

By the Associated Press.

MARION, N. C., Sept. 19.—A special venire, from another county, 75 in number, from which an effort will be made to select a jury to try Alfred L. Hoffman, Southern organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, and five union members charged with rioting and rebellion against the State, was summoned to appear in Superior Court here today.

Judge John Harwood ordered the change of venire yesterday, after denying another defense motion which sought a continuance in the case.

Hoffman and 59 union members were indicted Monday on the rioting charges after the grand jury had heard details of a clash Aug. 31 between Sheriff's officers and strikers from two textile mills. The officers were stoned and driven from the Clinchfield mill village.

So far only the cases against Hoffman, Lawrence, Hogan, J. Hugh Wall, Wess Fowler, Will Russell and Dell Lewis have been called.

The strikes which precipitated the disorders were settled last week.

JURY DEADLOCKED IN TRIAL OF WOMAN BANK ROBBER

Texas Judge Sends 12 Men Back for Further Deliberation on Verdict.

By the Associated Press.

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex., Sept. 19.—The jury in the trial of Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers for bank robbery reported today to Judge John Watson that it was deadlocked. The jurist sent the 12 men back for further deliberation.

Egon Roessing, foreman, told the Judge that each juror had a different opinion regarding the former University of Texas student's guilt and requested that the jury be discharged. Mrs. Rogers, charged with robbing the Farmers' National Bank of Buda, Tex., of $1000 in 1926, pleaded insanity.

CAPTAIN WHISTLES FOR HIS CREW BUT GETS POLICE

Havana Port Authorities Thought Vessel Was in Distress; Skipper Just Explain.
By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, Sept. 19.—Capt. J. F.

Churchill of the British steamer Carreon has been reported by port police for causing alarm in Havana by too diligently blowing the ship's whistle in summoning members of his crew aboard. Churchill was anxious to put to sea and a dozen or more members of his crew were still in Havana on shore 1 ave. The ship's whistle was blown. No answer from the crew. The whistling continued. A semaphore operator at Morro Castle thought the uproar meant a ship in distress and sent up signals.

Investigation showed that the only distress was that of Churchill in being unable to get his men aboard. The Cuban port officials demand that Churchill explain all the whistling.

To that pleasure of entertaining friends add the pleasure of "Canada Dry"

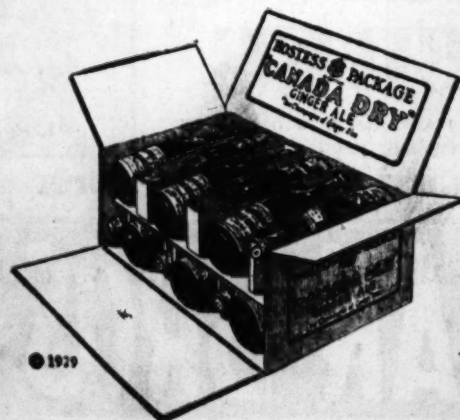

TO MAKE the party a little gayer... to greet your friends a little more warmly... to make the bridge game a little more pleasant and the talk which follows a little more vivacious... serve "Canada Dry" when you entertain friends.

What zest—like that a hike in the mountains gives you! How refreshing—like the breeze which blows up the valley! And its keen, "dry" flavor, distinctive like that of some rare old wine!

Its mellowness comes from the blending and balancing of absolutely pure ingredients. Its wonderful sparkle is the result of careful and exact carbonation. It is served in countless homes, in this country, in Canada. Is it served in yours? Order it in the Hostess Package of 12 bottles.

DEPUTY AT UNION, MO., ACCUSED OF BRIBERY

Prosecutor Says Harry Kloppenberg Gave Him $35 to Drop Gambling Charges.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UNION, Mo., Sept. 19.—Chief Deputy Sheriff Harry Kloppeberg of Franklin County, and Robert Jacobs, Sullivan, owners of a soft-drink place, were arrested yesterday by Sheriff L. H. Gehlert on warrants charging them with offering a $35 bribe to Prosecuting Attorney A. A. Tibbe.

The warrants were issued on the affidavit of Tibbe, who said that Kloppeberg gave him $35 Sept. 9, explaining that he was acting for Jacobs, alleged owner of 14 slot machines which had been seized by Sheriff Gehlert at St. Clair. The money was given to prevent prosecution of charges of operating a gambling place, Tibbe said.

Kloppeberg, who had announced his intention of becoming a candidate for Sheriff in 1932, gave a $2500 bond last night. Jacobs made bond for $5000. Both were signed by Mayor Steve Sullivan of Sullivan and J. P. Williams, former Mayor there. Preliminary hearings will be held Sept. 20 before Justice of the Peace Duke at Union. Sheriff Gehlert, who is serving his second two-year term, but who is prevented by law from immediately succeeding himself in office, expressed surprise at the charge against Kloppeberg, who had served as his chief deputy during both of his terms of office. He indicated that Kloppeberg's commission would be revoked.

AMERICAN FOREIGN MISSIONS BOARD HAS $50,204 DEFICIT

Treasurer Reports Clearing of All Debts but This; Gifts and Legacies Fall Off.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—Frederick A. Gaskins, treasurer of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, announces that the organization closed the fiscal year Aug. 31 with a deficit of $50,204. He reports that all previous deficits have been cleared away prior to this year, the $50,204 constituting the only debt of the board.

"Losses were heavy in the amount of gifts from the Congregational churches and legacies," said Gaskins. "Gains in income from matured conditional gifts and income from funds helped to offset these losses."

The treasurer reports that the board's total receipts for the year amounted to $2,077,739, and expenditures were $2,127,943.

DOLL MAKES 14TH AT TABLE

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The Prince of Wales is superstitious about sitting at a table where there are 13 guests.

This was disclosed today by a person who told of a recent dinner party at Le Touquet, Belgium. The Prince sent out invitations to 14 friends to dine with him at the Casino de la Foret. At the last moment the Maitre d'Hotel selected a handsome doll called "Guard of the Grenadiers" as the fourteenth guest.

People who wear the smartest clothes... who live in the most pleasant houses.

And now a radio receiver designed for the discerning few... this new all-electric screen grid

Eveready Radio

E...THE PRECISION INSTRUMENT

... a truly superlative medium of music

PEOPLE who wear the smartest clothes... who live in the most pleasant houses... people who instinctively turn to the most agreeable things which life affords... people with whom excellence in all their material possessions is a fetish... quite naturally will want the new Eveready Radio.

Such people when they turn a dial are looking first of all for excellent reception... reception so full voiced, so adequate, that you seem to be in your box at the opera... so clear, so free from foreign noises that you might just as well be seated ten feet from the speaker's table. Since you make this demand of a radio, you will want the new Eveready Radio. Its fidelity is remarkable.

But you are a person of sense and taste. Quite rightly you want your possessions to last. Naturally you want to be assured of mechanical excellence.

Such excellence is the very foundation of the new Eveready. It is built with the care which insists upon the precision of a hair's breadth. The most scholarly research has contributed to this instrument. And will contribute to it as time goes on. Your other possessions say, "Not how many of me but how well I am made." That is also true of this fine instrument.

But the result is not interpreted to you in terms of novelties, accoutrements, mystifying devices. You are, after all, not interested in such things. You simply know that this radio receiver is the best there is. And you are right. For the Eveready Radio gives excellent reception not for a period of months... not for a period of a few years... but for five, yes even ten, years. This fine instrument offers you that margin of excellence which you recognize in all your other material possessions.

Priced no higher than ordinary "commercial" receivers, this fine instrument brings beauty of cabinetwork with it as a matter of course. See it. Hear it. And as the years go by, you will feel that your purchase is a compliment to your ability to live—not only gracefully, but also to the point.

BOLIVIA ACCEPTS PROPOSAL TO CONCILIATE WITH PARAGUAY

Terms Under Which It Will Be Undertaken Are Sent to the League.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 19.—Bolivian Minister Costadellas of Berne, Switzerland, has written to inform the Council and members of the League of Nations that his Government has accepted the proposal of conciliation in the boundary dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay by the Washington Commission of Inquiry.

The acceptance included the following points:

Paraguay and Bolivia agree to forget reciprocally all offenses and grievances; the state of affairs is to remain as before the two countries became embroiled last December; diplomatic relations are being resumed between them.

"I need not call your attention to the significance of this information," Senor Costadellas wrote. "I shall only point out that it demonstrates once more the deeply pacific intentions of Bolivia and its spirit of international understanding."

Official announcement was made yesterday in Asuncion, Paraguay, that the Paraguayan Government had accepted the good offices of the Washington conciliation commission in an effort to settle once for all the boundary dispute.

MINE FIRE BARS RESCUERS

Bodies of 23 Dead in German Pit Not Recovered.

By the Associated Press.

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany, Sept. 19.—After three days of continuous fighting against the underground fire in the St. Charles coal mine, where 23 persons were killed and 25 injured by an explosion, the blaze continues undiminished and tremors occasionally indicate further explosions have occurred in the depths of the subterranean galleries, which it is impossible to enter to recover the bodies of the victims.

The neighboring Velsen mine is endangered by poisonous fumes emanating from a disused branch of the St. Charles workings. It is thought the only recourse is to completely flood the St. Charles Mine.

U. S. RADIO INSPECTION TOUR

Reception Most Efficient, Commission Finds.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Radio reception has reached the highest efficiency of its history according to H. A. Lafount, member of the Federal Radio Commission, who recently returned from an inspection trip which took him to the West Coast.

He based his statement on personal observation and the fact that there has been an almost complete cessation of complaints, as compared to the innumerable letters which were formerly received by the Federal Radio Commission.

HORACE BOWKER ELECTED AMERICAN AGRIC. CHEM. HEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—George B. Burton, president of the American Agricultural Chemical Co., and Robert S. Bradley, chairman, declined to accept re-election at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors today. Horace Bowker, formerly vice president, was chosen to succeed Mr. Burton as president, but the office of chairman was left vacant. Both of the retiring executives continue as members of the board, and Mr. Bradley as a member of the executive committee.

In a statement to stockholders, the directors said that both Mr. Burton and Mr. Bradley were men of individual and personal nature, and such that the board was led to accept them as compelling. It was pointed out that each had given about half a century of service to the company, and that since they assumed management they had achieved notable success in strengthening its financial position.

FORMER PRINCE APPARENTLY IN GERMAN BOMBING PLOT

Connection Hinted in Letter Found After Man Had Drowned Self
"to Escape Disgrace."

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—A mysterious affair, said to involve a former Prince, is occupying the attention of the Berlin and Munich police because of its possible connection with recent bomb outrages in Germany.

At Koenigssee, in the Bavarian Alps, a 40-year-old stranger disappeared after hiring a boat for a row on the lake. The boat later was found containing a hat, a cane and a card on which was written "100 marks reward to the finder."

The police searched the room occupied by the stranger, finding an overcoat and a letter in which the writer, without disclosing his identity, stated that unknowingly he had financed a group of bomb-throwers and feared arrest as an accomplice.

The letter added that the writer preferred death to dishonor and requested that his body, if found, should not be placed in his family vault because his "crowned ancestors" would turn in their graves if they were lying next to one who was a Socialist, if not a communist, in his views.

SIX-YEAR TAX DISPUTE SETTLED FOR $1,117,392

98 Foreign Fire Insurance Firms Settle Back Taxes Due in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Ninety-eight foreign fire insurance companies paid to State, county and municipal governments $1,117,392 yesterday in settling a six-year dispute over unpaid back taxes.

The insurance companies fought the case to the United States Supreme Court after being ordered by the Illinois Supreme Court to pay taxes on the full value of premium returns. Previously the companies had been taxed on premiums as personal property. The United States Supreme Court reversed the State tribunal and directed the payment of taxes on premiums on the same basis as personal property.

Attorneys for the companies tendered checks in payment today in the courtroom of Judge David M. Brothers. The State's share is $81,705; the county's, $97,125; the city corporate fund, $378,073; city school fund, $374,606; Sanitary District, $73,303, the rest going to park and forest preserve districts.

One hundred other insurance concerns incorporated outside of Illinois are still disputing tax bills estimated at $800,000.

Chile Celebrates Independence.
SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 19.—Chile's independence day was observed with patriotic fervor throughout the country yesterday. The only disorder was at San Felipe where Mayor Arturo Loco of Curimon was shot and killed by a chauffeur, who committed suicide.

THE WAY OF A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall

EXIT THE HEAVIES

THE modern man surely is the phenomenon of nature for which (or whom) the modern woman should be most thankful. Oh, yes, like many of our sex, we've laughed at him and stuck pins into him and we'll do both again. Somebody has to puncture his vanity and smother over his inconstancy. Besides, as long as most of the comic strip artists are men having their fun with women, it's only fair play for women writers to see the joke on the male sex.

The fact remains that the American woman of today gets, on the whole, extremely decent treatment from the men with whom she comes in closest contact—her father and her husband.

How often, nowadays, does an American father roar at his daughter—save in the Shakespearean style of roaring "rently as a sucking dove!" On the contrary there is anybody in the house for whom, even more than for wife and son, the American works and denies himself and plans and saves. It is his little girl. There is no question of her education being slighted to serve her brother's. She, like the boy, goes to college if she has the slightest wish to do so. She has as generous an allowance, as free use of a car, and—probably—more clothes and more expensive ones.

From her earliest childhood, her father has enjoyed taking her about, has encouraged her confidences, has teased and advised and petted her. Many an American has a way of saying "Daughter" which makes the two syllables sound like a caress.

There is an occasional exception to the rule of a modern father's amiable acceptance of her daughter's choice in husbands, but the rule holds. He stages no terrifying interview with his prospective son-in-law. He thunders no prohibition of the banes "fornicateness" is not sought. He simply never considers interfering with what is the girl's own affair, after she is 21.

When the modern American turns husband he also avoids the heavy hand. He is no tyrant. Bed-tampered, sometimes unreasonable, but how often, in serious earnest, does the nice American man—the sort one marries and one's friends marry—lay down the law to his wife? Wifely obedience, in many American circles, has been a joke for years. If anything, the pendulum has swung too far in the opposite direction—the freedom of the wife.

Wifely obedience, in many American circles, has been a joke for years. If anything, the pendulum has swung too far in the opposite direction—the freedom of the wife. The happiest marriage there is, two equal partners. Most all American marriages abound in mutual respect and understanding. There is no talk of over with my—how often he says that!—when marriage arrives at the impasse of the divorce court. American men are notably congenial and liberal in liquidating matrimonial accounts.

From the heavy father and the glib husband may be realized whatever either of the two is encountered in the novels of other writers and times. There is an absorbing new book in which this precious masculine pair are exhibited at their worst by a woman writer with a pen as sharp as a scalpel. Read "The Galaxy" by Susan Ertz and thank your stars you are an American woman of today, with a father who is not an egotistical despot and a husband who is not a mean bully.

Laura, Miss Ertz's sensitive, dignified, intelligent and charming heroine, suffers from both of these males. Her Victorian father drives her beloved brother from home, simply because he insists on remaining friends with a tutor of whom the father disapproves for insufficient reason, and Laura sees this brother only by stealth, and against stern parental prohibition. Then, at almost 21, she becomes engaged to Horace, a perfectly respectable manufacturer.

Father is doubtful from the first. As he says—and hasn't it a familiar twang?—"rebellion and anarchy are in the air, and are nowhere more evident than in the behavior of the young generation. He is not altogether untainted." He objects to Laura's having received a few letters from her fiancé—"What business has he to be writing loveletters to you before he has my consent to your engagement?" He tries to dissuade Horace, because he is "in trade" instead of in Parliament. Finally, after a furious and ridiculous scene, he says that if they marry Laura will have "not one penny from him."

And Horace, heavy Victorian husband, never forgets that. He never misses his opportunity to remind his wife that "you came to me without a penny," and that "you depend on me for every penny you spend." He is disloyal, even forcing her to receive her suitors in his favor. "And Horace could bear no criticism, spoken or implied. That rigid ego that lived in him could do no wrong. What he had loved in her was her adoration of himself, and at the faintest hint that her adoration was mingled or tempered with criticism, he felt himself to be an injured man."

THE MAKE-BELIEVE WIFE—By Kathleen Norris

A Romance of Modern Life

"Hugh!" she breathed, panting.

"Yes, I knew. Bert had hid him. Knew it that very first night," Hugh went on

CHAPTER 30

"YOU haven't made a mess of anything at all!" Hugh said decidedly. "We've all managed to make a mess of things for you. I wish—I wish you would go about a little more, Bee, with girls your own age—to matinees and lunches at the club—that sort of thing," he diverged, after a pause. For some reason this hurt her, and tears came to her eyes.

"I hate girls my own age, Hugh—most of them aren't out of college yet!"

"I know, I know," he said, in quick sensitiveness. "That's just it. You oughtn't to be expected to go about with Minnie and Margaret!"

"The children are wonderful, and I love Minnie and Margaret!" Beatrice insisted stoutly. "If—if you were happy, Hugh," she added wistfully, "I'd be perfectly happy. I never get tired of books and walks and lectures and—"

"And meeting you!" he had been the concluding words, but they emerged only an indistinct jumble.

"I will be happy, dear," he said. "Everything will straighten out and you will be running round picking oranges, and eating figs and sand dabs—"

"They sound like spiders!" "But they're really nice little flat white fish—delicious fish," Hugh began to beat on her hand lightly; his voice was low and steady in the dark. "And you'll write me letters," he said in his pleasant, encouraging voice.

Beatrice's face was wet. She spoke carefully.

"Was it—was it losing the plans that made everything seem to go wrong just lately, Hugh?" she asked. "Or is it Bert?"

"It isn't either, Bee. It's just that I've begun to see things in a different way—perhaps." Hugh's voice died into a silence, and for a little while neither spoke.

"I wish we need never have the lights," Beatrice said presently, "because I feel—I feel nearer to you—safer—now than I've felt for a long, long time!"

"As to the plans," Hugh said, following his own thought, after another long interval, "from the beginning I've known who hid them, Bee."

"Hugh!" she breathed, panting. "Yes, I knew Bert had hid them. Knew it that very first night," Hugh went on.

"Oh, Hugh, no!" "I think so."

"But why—but why?" she stammered.

"The very first night," Hugh repeated, "something in his manner struck me. I thought it over, and I knew it was Bert."

"What motive?" Hugh echoed dreamily, and was silent.

"Why should he, Hugh? Oh, Hugh, you're wrong. Whatever the explanation is, that isn't it!" Beatrice exclaimed eagerly. "He wouldn't! He couldn't! Bert's crazy—he's spoiled, in a way, but he couldn't do that!"

"At first," Hugh pursued, as if she had not spoken, "I thought I would speak to him about it. And then I thought, no, that would accomplish nothing. He wouldn't admit it. But I was more or less confirmed in my opinion with every word that he said about it. And the days went by and the time was up for the memorial contest, and I thought to myself, 'If I ask him now, he'll know I'm too late, and he'll have all the more reason to stick to his story.'"

"And then—when it was too late—it came to me where they were," Hugh said.

"Where they were?" Beatrice whispered sharply.

"Yes, I thought that out, too. I remembered that afternoon when we discovered the loss, and how Nelly had told us that Bert had come home to lunch and had had a sandwich, or something, and I followed Bert's train of thought. He would have driven over from mother's in his car, because he had come down to lunch with her, and they had all moved into town—do you remember? Well, I figured that he would park his car just where he always does, on the grass by the old barn, and then when he came out of the house, with the plans, he would look up at that stable roof, above the old hayloft, and think what a nice place to thrust that roll those old cobwebby rafters would be!"

"The idea only came to me about 10 days ago, and I drove down to Spy Lake that afternoon," said Hugh. "I parked near the old barn, and walked in the door, and climbed up on two or three bales of hay that were there, and put my hand on them as calmly as I'd take a hat off a shelf!"

"Too late!" Beatrice said, hardly above a breath.

"And you mean that you have those plans now?" Beatrice whispered.

"I have them now."

"And you didn't tell me!" "I felt too badly about it, Bee. Besides, what was the use?"

"For a few minutes she was silent. "But Bert didn't do it!" she said, then, positively. "Hugh, Hugh, why should he?"

"Possibly," Hugh's voice said slowly, "he did not want me to go to California this year."

Beatrice was stricken silent; she felt as if her heart "must stop beating for fear."

Immediately it was as if she could feel him gathering force in the darkness—Hugh was his considerate self again.

"Here, your hands are cold—why, you're shaking all over, Bee!" he exclaimed. A moment later he had touched a switch, and here and there in the comfortable, book-lined room lamps suddenly bloomed.

"Shall I get Nelly—do you want a hot-water bag?" he said, then, positively. "Hugh, Hugh, why should he?"

"Possibly," Hugh's voice said slowly, "he did not want me to go to California this year."

Beatrice was stricken silent; she felt as if her heart "must stop beating for fear."

past seven. Don't we go out tonight?" "We're dining with Judge and Mrs. Lambert," Beatrice, settling down under her silk cover, answered. "No, don't call Nelly, Hugh. But give me my electric heater. It's right there in my dressing-room—and I'll be warm in no time!"

"I'll have this fire built up," he said, ringing a bell, going toward her dressing-room, where he found the electric heater, and taking it from its shelf in the big, white, spacious closet, changed to glance down at the floor and saw her next little brown overshoe—Bee's overshoe, one tumbled down and one standing erect, and both wet!

There was no mistake about it: little pools of rain water had formed around them on the white tiled floor.

He did not come into Bee's dressing-room twice in a year, but he had come in here today—

He laid down the foot warmer he carried and picked up one of the shoes. Cold and soaking. Forty-nine persons sat down to the elaborate dinner, and at least that many more came in afterward for the dance.

Left-Over Corn

LEFT-OVER corn can be cut from the cob next day, seasoned with salt, pepper and a little butter, then heated before serving.

If any of this is left add milk and cooked lima beans, then heat and you will have a tasty succotash. Some cooks prefer to combine it with peas or chopped peppers, while others prefer the corn creamed or scalloped.

It makes an excellent custard or soufflé; it can be converted into corn soup or delicious corn fritters.

But bread adds interest to the dinner of vegetables.

dashling and beautiful Nettle Comenens, had been heiress to an old mining grandfather, was naturally known as the "girl who owned a county." Now, in her fat and comfortable fifties, she lived in an Italian villa inconspicuously situated at Washington and South E streets, mispronounced French and Italian words cheerfully and fluently, and was interested chiefly in diets and bridges.

But she loved to entertain, and the handsome old dignified Judge loved to entertain.

Tonight the Lamberts' guest of honor was a Senator-elect, and they had spared neither pains nor money to entertain him fittingly.

Forty-nine persons sat down to the elaborate dinner, and at least that many more came in afterward for the dance.

Talks to PARENTS

By Alice Judson Beale

ENOUGH PUNISHMENT.

JIM and Hugh stood hammering at the work bench.

Suddenly, for no apparent reason, Jim leaned over and struck Hugh a vicious blow with his square-headed hammer. Her finger nail was cut through at the base, and the finger itself cruelly injured.

After it had been bathed and bandaged the councillor turned to Jim.

"How did it happen?" he asked. "It's not my fault. I hate her anyway."

"I didn't say anything about it being your fault. I only asked you to tell me how it happened."

"I don't care. Jack bullies me, so I'm going to take it out on somebody else," was the astonishing reply. Here was frank confession of a cruel impulse, cruelly carried out.

What to do with Jim was the question which agitated the minds of the adults in charge. But the other children, duped of the question, loudly they clamored for avenging punishment. Wherever Jim showed his face he was met by their blunt repudiation of his society and their frank indignation at what he had done. He did not come in to dinner and went hungry to bed. For two days he avoided everyone. He took long walks in the woods and went straight to his shack when he returned.

That was punishment enough. Adults could add nothing to the lesson Jim was thus painfully learning from his fellows. His exile lasted a week, when, his crime forgotten, he was once more accepted in the casual society of his equals.

When punishment comes thus naturally to a child, adults are wise to keep their hands off and let the lesson sink home of its own accord. Of all punishments none is more effective than that which comes to a child from the disapproval of his own playmates.

Cotton for Autumn

THE end of summer does not preclude the storing of cottons, for daytime frocks will be made from this material. And chic costumes at that. Day models conform to the new lines in dresses, elegantly jacketed, flared as to skirts, trim in the moulded hip and unique in their patterns.

Gingham, of course, will continue to be charming. But there are such novelties as broadcloths in brushed designs and effects of woven tweeds. Prints show a trend toward lightness and gaiety.

Zipper Sewing Bag.

A sewing bag of moire, fitted with places for small scissors, thread, snappers and a celluloid needle, has a fine capacity for material and is so simple to use. It takes that opens down the sides in addition to the top.

Garden Beauty Hints

Have you ever stopped to consider the possibilities for beauty that lie in an undeveloped plot of ground? Even a backyard with nothing more than a lawn and a few trees can be transformed into a beautiful spot by a few trees—Shrubs or Evergreens—if well placed with an eye to artistry of line.

Your home should be and CAN be an expression of your taste, but it will never reflect the very highest standards of home ownership if you think only of the inside and neglect the outside.

It's the composite picture that counts—exterior and interior should both be planned with an eye to beauty as a whole.

Behind the Screens

The Latest News and Gossip of the Film Actors in Hollywood Appears in the Daily Magazine of the Post-Dispatch Every Tuesday and Thursday and in the Sunday Drama Section.

Myrna Loy

Myrna Loy is the screen symbol of all that is exotic. Mention of her name conjures up visions of mystic temples of Buddha, of flaming suns, of Arabian nights, of Turkish harems and of a desert somewhere east of Suez? Myrna Loy has been east of the Mississippi River.

"I'm almost ashamed to say it but I've been even to New York," she confesses.

This freckle-faced, titian-haired girl who on the screen becomes an exquisite when a passionate daughter of some far-away land, was born in Montana and has spent most of her young life in California.

Yet in the movies she has been a Burmese maiden, a Moroccan, a Mohammedan, a Greek, a desert princess, a Spanish senorita, and even, once in a comedy, a French Senegalese. In her next little, "Tale of Escape," she is to be a Hawaiian charmer.

Remember Him?

HARRY T. MOREY, who is remembered by millions of screen fans for his silent screen characterizations during past 16 years, will make his initial appearance in an audible picture in "The Return of Sherlock Holmes," now being filmed as an all-talking production. Morey will play the role of Moriarty, the arch-criminal of Conan Doyle's mystery stories, in "The Return of Sherlock Holmes," the screen play in which Clive Brook is featured as the famous fictional detective.

For more than a dozen years Morey played leads and starred for the old Vitaphone Co. Before joining the ranks of film players he appeared in a number of stage productions and brings to his present role the experience gained on both stage and screen.

With the accession of Morey to this important role the cast of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes" is complete. It includes, in addition to Clive Brook and Morey, H. Reeves-Smith, Betty Lawford, Donald Crisp and Phillips Holmes.

Marion and Marianne

W HATEVER "Marianne" does at the nation's box offices, and whatever else may be deemed significant in Marion Davies' first all-talking vehicle, it is probable that it is the yet unwritten chronicles of talkie progress the picture will rate as a landmark.

For it is the first film to discard definitely and absolutely the bull-and-chain of a "backstage" setting.

Yet "Marianne" is musical comedy, replete with songs and comic situations. It has numerous reprises, romance, and a brand of pathos which stage musical comedy seldom attains, and a happy ending.

The rather thin plot concerns the deviltries and pranks of a company of American doughboys billeted, just after the armistice, on the farm of a French peasant girl, Marianne (Miss Davies).

Three of the soldiers, Staggs (Lawrence Gray), Soapy (Cliff Edwards) and Yom (Benny Rubin), are the particular flies in the ointment of the peppy daughter of Gaul, who has troubles enough with her several adopted war orphans. Staggs seriously falls in love with Marianne, and she at last with him, but there is the usual obstacle. There's the plot in brief. Typical musical comedy.

Just Natural

WITH footlights and curtain plots a most delightful feature of the talkie is that not once is a figurative or actual spotlight flashed on an excuse for bursting into song. There isn't even a cabaret scene.

The songs are introduced as naturally as though the characters are simply continuing dialog, and the doughboys' choruses work never seems "cued." The nearest approach to a stage is the rough table on which Marianne sings her songs and does her impersonations of Maurice Chevalier and Sarah Bernhardt for the boys.

Miss Davies throughout her first talking picture speaks with an assumed French accent. "Marianne" is unusual, too, in that Miss Davies constitutes the only feminine adornment therein, but then "Marianne" is asserted a starring vehicle.

A New Voice

LAWRENCE GRAY, hitherto known in Hollywood as an obscure silent film actor, garners bright laurels in his debut as a singing star while Benny Rubin, a former local master of ceremonies, also debuting, shares comedy honors about evenly with Cliff "Kukele Ike" Edwards.

The world premiere here of "Marianne," incidentally, marked the conversion of another legitimate theater—gone talkie.

Protected.

Cut off the feet and use the legs of old stockings for sleeve protectors when doing cellar work. They can be removed when the work is finished along with the big apron and you are presentable even if you have been doing "dirty work."

Valentino Helped

MYRNA, by the way, got her movie "break" through the late Rudolph Valentino, the anniversary of whose death was observed with services at his tomb here recently. Winifred Hudnut, Mrs. Rudy's wife, used Myrna in a picture she directed, and Myrna stayed on in the film.

But she was "just another actress"—until talkies came along. Now she scarcely has time to play all the parts offered her.

Miss Akins Signs Up

ZOE AKINS, former St. Louisan, noted playwright, poet and novelist, has signed a long-term contract as a member of Paramount's Famous-Lasky's writing staff. Miss Akins came to Hollywood a little more than three months ago, and, undecided whether to remain permanently or return to New York after a short sojourn in the film city. She did some writing for Fox and then was secured by Paramount to adapt Timothy Sheehan's novel "Sarah and Son" for the talking screen. The contract that has resulted means that she has definitely cast her lot with motion pictures.

Miss Akins is known almost equally as a writer of dramas, poetry and fiction. Her play, "Delancey," proved one of the outstanding hits of recent years when it ran for more than a year at the Empire Theater in New York. Others of her best known plays include:

Girls Same Name and Age Are Not Related

THIS is what Eleanor Rich and Eleanor Rich of Houston, Tex., have in common: Their names are the same, they weigh the same and they were born within two hours of each other—one 40 minutes off Broadway and the other in Houston.

Although they are no relation, both have Cherokee Indian fathers. The father of one once worked for the father of the other.

One is a police station telephone operator, the other a Y. W. C. A. secretary. They met recently through a young man who phoned one for a date and was connected with the other.

What It Means to Be President

By Calvin Coolidge

Eight Years in White House Makes One Feel Humble

ARTICLE FIVE.

IN determining upon all his actions, the President has to remember that he is dealing with two different minds. One is the mind of the country, largely intent upon its own personal affairs and, while not greatly interested in the Government, yet desirous of seeing it conducted in an orderly and dignified manner for the advancement of the public welfare. Those who compose this mind wish to have the country prosperous and are opposed to unjust taxation and public extravagance. At the same time, they have a patriotic pride which moves them with so great a desire to see things well done that they are willing to pay for it. They gladly contribute their money to place the United States in the lead. In general, they represent the public opinion of the land.

But they are unorganized, formless, and inarticulate. Against a compact and well-drilled minority they do not appear to be very effective. They are nevertheless the great power in our government. I have constantly appealed to them and have seldom failed in enlisting their support. They are the court of last resort and their decisions are final.

Mixed Political Minds.

THEY are, however, the indirect rather than the direct power. The immediate authority with which the President has to deal is vested in the political mind. In order to get things done, he has to work through that agency.

Some of our Presidents have appeared to lack comprehension of the political mind. Although I have been associated with it for many years, I always found difficulty in understanding it. It is a strange mixture of vanity and timidity, of an obsequious attitude at one time and a delusion of grandeur at another time, of the most selfish prefeerment combined with the most sacrificing patriotism. The political mind is the product of men in public life who have been twice spoiled. They have been spoiled with praise and they have been spoiled with abuse. With them nothing is natural, everything is artificial. A few rare souls escape these influences and maintain a vision and a judgment that is unimpaired. They are a great comfort to every President and of great service to their country. But they are not sufficient in number so that the public business can be transacted like a private business.

It is because in their hours of timidity the Congress becomes subservient to the importunities of organized minorities that the President comes more and more to stand as the champion of the rights of the whole country. Organizing such minorities has come to be a well-recognized industry at Washington. They are often times led by persons of great abilities, who display much skill in bringing their influences to bear on the Congress. They have ways of securing newspaper publicity, deluging Senators and Representatives with petitions, and overwhelming them with imprecations that are oftentimes decisive in securing the passage of bills. While much of this legislation is not entirely bad, almost all of it is excessively expensive. If it were not for the rules of the House and the veto power of the President, within two years these activities would double the cost of the government.

Party Spirit Weakening.

UNDER our system the President is not only the head of the Government, but he is the head of his party. The last twenty years have witnessed a decline in party spirit and a distinct weakening in party loyalty. While an independent attitude on the part of the citizens is not without a certain public advantage, yet it is necessary under our form of government to have political parties. Unless someone is a partisan, no one can be an independent.

The Congress is organized entirely in accordance with party policy. The parties appeal to the voters in behalf of their platforms. The people make their choice on those issues. Unless those who are elected on the same party platform associate themselves together to carry out its provisions, the election becomes a mockery. The independent voter who has joined with others in placing a party nominee in office finds his efforts were all in vain if the person he helps elect refuses or neglects to keep the platform pledges of his party.

Many occasions arise in the Congress when party lines are very properly disregarded, but if there is to be a responsible government proceeding in accordance with the express mandate of the people, and not merely at the whim of those who happen to be victorious at the polls, on all the larger and important issues there must be party solidarity. It is the business of the President as party leader to do the best he can to see that the declared party platform purposes are translated into legislative and administrative action. Oftentimes I secured support from those without my party and had opposition from those within my party, in attempting to keep my platform pledges.

Never Made Reprisals.

SUCH a condition is entirely anomalous. It leaves the President as the sole repository of party responsibility. But it is one of the reasons that the Presidential office has grown in popular estimation and favor while the Congress has declined. The country feels that the President is willing to assume responsibility, while his party in the Congress is not. I never felt it was my duty to attempt to coerce Senators or Representatives, or to take reprisals. The people sent them to Washington. I felt I had discharged my duty when I had done the best I could with them. In this way I avoided almost entirely a personal opposition, which I think was of more value to the country than to attempt to prevail through arousing personal fear.

Under our system it ought to be remembered that the power to initiate policies has to be centralized somewhere. Unless the party leaders exercising it can depend on loyalty and organization support, the party in which it is reposed will become entirely ineffective. A party which is ineffective will soon be discarded. If a party is to endure as a serviceable instrument of government for the country, it must possess and display a healthy spirit of party loyalty. Such a manifestation in the Congress would do more than anything else to rehabilitate it in the esteem and confidence of the country.

Should Not Fetter President.

IT is natural for man to seek power. It was because of this trait of human nature that the founders of our institutions provided a system of checks and balances. They placed all their public officers under constitutional limitations. They had little fear of the courts and were inclined to regard legislative bodies as the natural champions of their liberties. They were very apprehensive that the executive might seek to exercise arbitrary powers. Under our Constitution such fears have seldom been well founded. The President has tended to become the champion of the people because he is held solely responsible for his acts, while in the Congress, where responsibility is divided, it has developed that there is much greater danger of arbitrary action.

It has therefore become increasingly imperative that the President should resist any encroachment upon his constitutional powers. One of the most important of these is the power of appointment. The Constitution provides that he shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint. A constant pressure is exerted by the Senators to make their own nominations, and the Congress is constantly proposing laws which undertake to deprive the President of the appointive power.

Different departments and bureaus are frequently supporting measures that would make of them self-perpetuating bodies to which no appointments could be made that they did not originate. While I have always sought co-operation and advice, I have likewise resisted these efforts, sometimes by refusing to adopt recommendations and sometimes by the exercise of the veto power.

One of the farm relief bills, and later a public health measure, had these clearly unconstitutional limitations on the power of appointment. In the defense of the rights and liberties of the people, it is necessary for the President to resist all encroachments upon his lawful authority.

White House Humbles Occupant.

ALL of these trials and encouragements come to each President. It is impossible to explain them. Even after passing through the Presidential office, I find it still remains a mystery. Why one person is selected for it and many others are rejected cannot be told. Why people respond as they do to its influence seems to be beyond inquiry. Any man who has been placed in the White House cannot feel that it is the result of his own exertions or his own merit. Some power outside and beyond him becomes manifest through him. As he contemplates the workings of his office, he comes to realize with an increasing sense of humility that he is but an instrument in the hands of God.

(Copyright, 1929.)
This is the last of the series of articles by Mr. Coolidge.

EX-PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, signing a bill. "The President has tended to become the champion of the people because he is solely responsible for his acts," states Mr. Coolidge in this article.

PARIS FASHIONS IN AMERICA

Daily Story FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE CLOCK TALKS

THE little black clock and the children rode along on the Indian's swift-moving horse. After they had traveled over a good deal of prairie land, the little black clock whispered to the horse.

Instantly they stopped and the wind, which had seemed so wild before, was very quiet.

The little black clock jumped down and Peggy and John did the same. The horse turned back toward home, racing for all he was worth.

"What are we going to do?" asked Peggy.

"Why did you let the horse go?" John asked.

It seemed rather dreadful to be left alone on a great prairie, with only the little black clock. The legs of the little black clock were not particularly strong looking, nor did he look as though he could do much to help them if danger should come that way.

The little black clock motioned to each of them to sit down, and, putting one of his funny hands on each, he said:

"Don't be frightened. I will never, never, never let harm come to you."

"We have had so much excitement with the wonderful dance the Indians gave while I told you just a little more about myself and of all the good times we can have together."

As John and Peggy looked at the jolly, happy, friendly face of the clock they knew they need never be frightened again.

"It was long before either of you were born that I stopped going," the clock said. "It was a little before 7 one evening when I was wishing I could go back to a very nice afternoon I had had, that I was offered the magic."

"But I had to choose between keeping the regular time or any time at all except the regular time."

"What was the person like who brought you the magic?" John asked.

"Won't you tell us?" Peggy asked.

"Why, yes—I will!" the clock told them.
